NORTHERN VALLEY RESISTANCE LIGHT

U.S. Losses Reported 'Heavy' During First Days Of Secrecy Shrouded Border Push

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. troops today pushed through the A Shau Valley, hunting North Vietnamese forces threatening South Vietnam's northern provinces from a misty jungle alive with cobras, pythons, tigers and scorpions.

UPI correspondent Nat Gibson reported from the area the American drive had met light resistance thus far. But the secrecy shrouded U.S. assault into the Laos border valley 10 days ago cost "heavy" losses in soldiers and the helicopters that brought them.

Spreading out from four bases seized April 19, troops of the Army 1st Air Cavalry Division were overrunning camps and highways built by the 10,000 North Vietnamese reported by intelligence to be in the valley. A delayed military report today said GIs killed 44 North Vietnamese in one machinegun fight Saturday. U.S. losses totaled five men wounded.

Supporting the A Shau Valley drive, U.S. jets flew 106 bombing missions yesterday against North Vietnam's southern panhandle supply lines. U.S. spokesmen said two jets were lost, bringing to 830 the number of American planes lost attacking the north.

B52 Stratofortresses bombarded the guerrilla attack trails leading from the eastern end of the 25-mile South Vietnam valley to within striking range of such allied bastions as the city of Hue.

In other fighting, American and South Vietnamese soldiers killed at least 122 Communists in two battles. Near the Cambodian border, below A Shau's foggy mountains, Red forces struck a camp of 150 U.S. infantrymen with flamethrowers, rockets and mortars in a fight that ended today only when American air power routed the attackers.

To the south, 25 miles northwest of Saigon, South Vietnamese troops battled an entrenched guerrilla forces Sunday. American troops, artillery and air strikes roared in. Together they killed 76 Communists, military spokesmen said. Seven Americans were killed and 31 wounded. South Vietnam losses were "light."

U.S. officials today announced that a five-day American paratrooper push through a valley 10 miles northeast of the A Shau resulted in almost around-the-clock fighting—and

U.S. Loses Two Jets Over North

SAIGON (UPI) — The United States today announced the loss of two jet planes over North Vietnam, bringing to 830 the number of American aircraft downed over the north thus far in the war.

A Navy F-4 Phantom was hit by ground fire near Vinh in the North Vietnamese panhandle, a military spokesman said. The two crew members ejected and were later rescued.

Another Navy plane, an A4 Skyhawk, was reported downed by unknown causes southeast of Vinh. The pilot was listed as missing in action.

American planes flew 106 missions over North Vietnam Sunday, all of them reportedly south of the 19th parallel as part of the current limited bombing pause.

Among the notable strikes, Air Force pilots hit trucks near the Mu Gia Pass in the panhandle.

Two pilots, Lt. Cols. James J. Butler, 45, Encino, and Orlando W. Jensen, 47, Novato, reported destroying four trucks and damaging several others.

"The weather broke for us and we had a clear look at the Mu Gia Pass," said Butler. "We were about 25 miles north of the main pass, up Route 15, when the forward air controller reported several trucks off the side of the road in the brush using a cliff for protection."

The F105s made two bomb runs and stafing passes, scoring direct hits on each run.

"The trucks were completely destroyed," said Butler. "I would guess they were carrying ammunition."

Jensen added: "I was ready to get out of there. It's a highly defended area, surface to air missile sites, antiaircraft artillery positions and small arms fire."

Navy pilots reported striking a cave storage area near Vinh and southbound supply traffic on highways outside of the panhandle city.

Lt. Robert Cassady, 28, Springfield, Pa., reported that the cave storage area was located at the base of a mountain range just south of Vinh. He said his squadron's 2,000-pound-bombs were on target.

U. S., Hanoi Peace Site Talks Quicken

15 Sessions So Far, But No Decision

VIETIANE, Laos (UPI)—The tempo of U.S.-North Vietnamese contacts is picking up but as yet there has been no progress in agreeing on a site for Vietnam war talks, informed sources said today.

They said American and North Vietnamese diplomats met three times in the past four days. There have been 15 contacts since both nations began speaking to each other here March 22.

The sources said neither the United States nor North Vietnam has even mentioned in the contacts any possible site for preliminary peace talks other than those already publicly known.

OTHER CITIES

North Vietnam's diplomats continued to insist on either Phnom Penh or Warsaw and the United States has rejected both and named 15 other cities, the sources said.

In accepting President Johnson's bid for talks, Hanoi Radio broadcast that North Vietnam would accept Phnom Penh or some other "mutually agreeable" site.

The sources said the latest contact between the two embassies came yesterday afternoon. Down the tree-lined streets of this sleeping Laotian city came Nguyen Con, a third secretary from the North Vietnamese embassy and a junior attache, named Truong Tien.

TO U.S. EMBASSY

They went to the U.S. Embassy to pick up a note from American Ambassador William K. Sullivan, the sources said.

Sullivan handed them the note, a reply to a note the North Vietnamese had sent Saturday.

The U.S. Embassy political counselor, Robert Hurwich, Saturday had handed the American note to Con at the North Vietnamese Embassy. Con took it in place of Charge Nguyen Chanh, who was away sightseeing in town when Hurwich made his mid-afternoon call.

PRIVATE TALK

According to the sources, Hurwich asked Con to come to see Sullivan himself if he could not locate Chanh. The next day Con, who is also Chanh's private secretary, made the trip.

Thursday's meeting was oral; no notes were exchanged, the sources said.

The United States was now trying to ask the North Vietnamese as diplomatically as possible to stop dickering and agree to a site acceptable to both Washington and Hanoi.

The sources said the contacts here were strictly limited to site-finding.

Truax Arraigned; Plea Set May 21

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Thomas Nelson Truax, former assistant administrator of the Association of Bay Area Governments, was arraigned today on seven counts involving stolen securities.

Truax, 26, appeared before U.S. District Judge Stanley Weigel in his first public appearance since being returned to San Francisco from Florida last week.

His attorney, Herman Mintz of Oakland, asked for a three-week delay in the proceedings. Weigel set May 21 for Truax to enter a plea.

Truax, who allegedly gambled away more than $500,000 in ABAG funds in Las Vegas casinos, was indicted last week by a federal grand jury on seven counts of interstate transportation of stolen securities totaling $203,500.

None of the funds has been recovered and Truax was remanded to jail in lieu of $100,000 bail.

A San Jose State College graduate, Truax vanished from his post Feb. 8 and was traced from Nevada's casinos to Palm Beach, Fla., where he was managing the political campaign of a candidate for public defender.

Nattily attired in a blue suit, Truax was returned to San Francisco Friday by federal agents. The suit was rumpled, however, and the husky defendant was unshaven when he appeared before Weigel.

$30 Million Project For Homes Unveiled

A $30 million project of mobile homes, shopping center, marina and conventional housing on the former Sartori Ranch in Black Point was unveiled this morning by the Alameda Homes Corp. of Oakland.

Because of the size of the project, the planning commissioners decided to postpone action until at least another public hearing has been held.

The 710-acre ranch lies south of Highway 37 and the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks, east of Simmons Slough, north of Novato Creek and west of the old Black Point area.

Kenney said he envisages a stage development over a 10-year period, and the over-all development would be worth $30 to $40 million.

He plans to put in about 200 mobile homes per year and 50 conventional homes per year. After the first four years, enough homes would be built to warrant the nucleus of a shopping center, which would include a beauty shop, barber shop, coffee shop, market, liquor store and a drug store.

At this point, apartment buildings can be started and the occupants would be within walking distance of the shops, said Kenney.

A total of 2,300 living units are planned—1,800 mobile homes, 200 conventional homes, and 300 apartments — for a projected community of 6,000 persons.

Seventy-five acres will be taken up by two large lakes in the center of the project. A golf course, swimming pool, tennis and riding club are also included in the plan. Twenty-three acres would be set aside for schools.

The main entrance to the area would be an extension of Atherton Avenue. The shopping center and apartments would be at the entrance, with a strip along Highway 37 for professional administrative offices.

County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker wants the developer to sponsor 50 to 100 units of low income housing for the elderly under some type of federal program.

E. Warren McMuire, attorney for Kenney, said the entire mobile home concept is geared for low-income families and therefore a specific requirement for federal low-income housing would not be necessary.

Family Flees Blaze In Apartment

A young San Rafael mother, who awoke early this morning to find the living room of her apartment on fire, awakened her husband and two small children in time for them to flee the burning building.

Mr. and Mrs. James Defenbaugh of 118 Reservoir Road said, however, they lost all of their possessions except one box of wet clothes in the fire.

Firemen said the fire probably started in a television set in the living room. It spread to the porch, siding, roof and attic of the two story frame building.

Smoke and heat also damaged an adjacent apartment.

Total damage was estimated at $8,800 by the fire department.

Mr. and Mrs. Defenbaugh and their sons, William LeRoy and Joseph Aaron, spent the night with Mrs. Defenbaugh's grandmother, Mrs. May Fuller, who lives in an apartment at 825 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

NO CLASSES

Students Blockade Columbia Sit-Ins

NEW YORK (AP) — An impatient faction of the Columbia University student body threw up a blockade today to squeeze off a protest by fellow students that has disrupted the Ivy League school for a week.

Columbia called off classes again as efforts continued to end the student sit-in at five buildings.

But some students eager for the school to return to normal formed what they called the Majority Coalition to end the protest and threw up a blockade around Low Memorial Library last night.

They tightened it this morning, saying they were cutting off all food and medical supplies for about 100 protesters inside. About 200 students manned the blockade.

As the sky lightened over Columbia on the seventh morning of the protest, the campus was in a state of disarray. Red flags flew from the roofs of two of the five occupied buildings. Several spots on campus had turned into a bivouac area.

A group of students awakened from spending a night in the open on the campus and began to brew coffee opposite the sundial near the library. Others did calisthenics in groups.

Hundreds of students, some for and some against the sit-in, stayed on campus throughout the night.

About 400 sit-in supporters either slept wrapped in blankets or sleeping bags, or sat talking quietly.

Another 250 students, opposed to the sit-in, either slept or talked nearby in the center of the campus. A number of these helped faculty members patrol Low Memorial Library, being occupied by members of Students for a Democratic Society.

The student protest, which began last Tuesday, led to suspension of night classes for three days last week and to suspension of day classes Friday.

The protesters originally demanded halting of construction of a gymnasium on a portion of a Harlem park adjoining the university, and an end to Columbia's participation in a defense-oriented government research project.

The university stopped construction of the gym. However, the student rebels demanded amnesty for all and an end to what they called the administration's "repressive rule."

Rivals Open Property Tax Relief Bids

SACRAMENTO (AP)—County supervisors and the California Taxpayers Association sought today to muster support for their rival property tax relief plans as the slow-paced 1968 legislative session crawled into its fifth month.

A lethargic summer atmosphere inside the Capitol matched the 90-degree temperatures outside, as the lawmakers waited for something of major importance to happen.

With steady progress being made in budget hearings but first full committee action unlikely before next month, pressure mounted behind the different campaigns for providing the property tax relief legislators and Gov. Ronald Reagan promised for this year.

Four major approaches to accomplish this were before the legislature:

Enactment of the plan endorsed by the governor and the County Supervisors Association. This would have the state give the 58 county governments the $155 million set aside for tax relief from money raised by the $1 billion 1967 state tax hike.

Approval of the course advocated by the California Taxpayers association, which would require the state to assume total financing of the almost 80 public junior colleges in California. That would lift $245 million of the tax burden carried by local property owners.

A takeover by the state of the full cost of administering welfare programs, allowing a $229 million local tax cut.

Let a provision of the 1967 bill take effect, in event no othe course could be approved, and have the state sales tax fall back on July 1 by one-half cent.

Employee Claims Firing Due To Revealing Welfare Story

A community worker for the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council today charged that he was fired because he released details of an exteme hardship case to the press.

Victor Henry Cary, executive director of EOC, countered that William D. Robinson was released on recommendation of his immediate supervisor for being consistently late for work, failing to keep appointments and not letting the office know of his whereabouts during working hours.

Robinson made the charge that he was fired for his work on behalf of Mrs. Evelyn Allen of San Rafael in a mimeographed letter on OC stationery, sent to persons who had come to Mrs. Allen's aid.

Mrs. Ronald W. Tennler, 122 Bretano Way, Greenbrae, a recipient of Robinson's letter, said she and her neighbors had gathered 14 bags of food for the Allen family after the Independent-Journal carried a story on March 14 detailing their plight. Mrs. Allen, her five

800 Acres Hit By Brush Fire

CORONA (AP)—Winds slackened today and fire fighters threw a line around all but 40 per cent of a blaze that scorched more than 800 acres of brush in Riverside County.

The fire, which broke out yesterday in an uninhabited area between Corona and Elsinore, was fanned for a time by winds up to 30 miles per hour.

By mid-morning, however, there was only a gentle breeze and the 300 firefighters contained all but the western side of the fire. No property was in danger.

New, Simplified Fee System For Parks Begins Wednesday

A new and simplified fee system will go into effect Wednesday for all parks in the California Park System.

The new schedule establishes, for the first time in many parks, special off-season rates for park users from Oct. 1 through April 30.

However, the day-use charge will remain constant throughout the year at 75 cents per car per day.

The new campsite fees are:

Trailer hookup — $3.50 a day during the regular season, $2 in off-season.

Class A camps (campgrounds equipped with standard restrooms, piped drinking water, hot showers, laundries) — $3 and $1.50.

Steam Powered CHP Cars Urged

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman John F. Foran, D-San Francisco, proposed today that the California Highway Patrol drive steam-powered cars to stimulate research on such vehicles.

Foran, chairman of the Assembly Transportation and Commerce Committee, said his resolution calls for an experimental program to be financed by private funds.

He said the patrol was "eager" to test the cars, which he said are less expensive to operate and produce no smog. Foran said the program "could trigger the development of steam cars on a mass production basis."

Demo Hopefuls In Finale For Indiana Votes

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Democratic presidential aspirants Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy begin their final week of campaigning today in Indiana—their first head-on primary clash.

Richard M. Nixon, the only major Republican presidential candidate on Indiana's May 7 primary ballot, plans to campaign in the state Thursday and Friday.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey—who has challenged Kennedy's pledge of "no more Vietnams" as an open invitation for Communist expansion—plans to remain in Washington.

HITS KENNEDY

"We ought to pursue as effectively as we can an honorable peace, to try to find a way to negotiate our way out of this tragic war," said Humphrey, who entered the Democratic presidential race Saturday.

"But I think it would be a greater tragedy," he continued, "to have any citizen that seeks high office in this country to announce that American power would not be used in case there was Communist aggression. This would breed not peace but chaos."

In other political developments:

Backers of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said they think he will announce as an active Republican presidential candidate possibly before May 16.

"He gave us no discouragement," said Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., after a meeting with the governor. "We believe we have an active candidate."

An aide denied reports that California Gov. Ronald Reagan told a group of Republicans in Boise, Idaho, he is a Republican presidential candidate. One of the Republicans said he got the impression Reagan intended to announce his candidacy May 26 on NBC's "Meet the Press."

McCarthy and Republican Gov. John A. Volpe are unopposed in Massachusetts' presidential primary tomorrow. Under state law they thus will gain control, barring write-in upsets, of Massachusetts' delegate votes at their respective national conventions.

INDIANA POLL

Newsweek magazine says a poll showed Kennedy with 45 per cent of the Indiana vote two weeks before the state's primary, Gov. Roger D. Branigin with 28 per cent and McCarthy with 19 per cent.

Humphrey became a candidate too late to enter primaries and his major task will be to entice party leaders off the political fence to back his nomination at the national convention.

He won new backers with his candidacy announcement Saturday but many party leaders in swing states he'll need for the nomination are remaining neutral.

Out of the Klan

Klan Leader Quits; Joins Rights Cause

ATLANTA (UPI) — Calvin Craig, Grand Dragon of the Georgia United Klans of America, Inc., announced yesterday his resignation from the Klan to help build a nation where "black men and white men can stand shoulder to shoulder in a united America."

The oldest Ku Klux Klan dragon in office, the 39-year-old Craig said he plans to devote his energies to voter registration work in Atlanta.

"There is no change in my attitude," he told a news conference at his neat, white frame home in southwest Atlanta. "I have no axes to grind and no apologies for my successes or my failures."

In an open letter to his esteemed klanspeople" in which he announced his decision to leave the Klan, Craig said, "looting, stealing, murder and burning are not the answer to the problems of our nation."

He called for "extremists of both the black groups and the white groups to sit down at the conference table and work out the problems so we can have peace in America today."

He said that during racial disturbances that occurred in Georgia during the eight years he served as Grand Dragon, "I ordered the Klan in action — not to create trouble, but to help keep the peace. In each case, law and order had been broken down by civil rights groups."

Frenchman Is Europe's First Heart Patient

PARIS (UPI) —French physicians announced today a 66-year-old truck driver received the heart of a brain injury victim in Europe's first heart transplant operation. The recipient survived but doctors said his condition was viewed with reserve.

The three-man French surgical team performed the nine-hour operation at sprawling, grey-bricked La Pitie Hospital on the left bank of the Seine Saturday night and yesterday morning. The announcement came 14 hours after the operation was completed.

SEVENTH PATIENT

It was the world's seventh heart transplant operation. There were three in the United States, two in South Africa and one in India. The only other recipient still alive is Dr. Philip Blaiberg, Cape Town, South Africa, dentist, who received his new heart in an operation performed Jan. 2 by a South African medical team headed by pioneer transplant surgeon Dr. Christiaan Barnard. Blaiberg is at home and doing well.

The terse announcement here said the surgery was performed by Dr. Christian Cabrol, 43, a tall, fair-haired surgeon who has specialized in heart diseases for several years. He was assisted by Doctors Gerard Guiroudon and Jean Facquet.

TRUCK DRIVER

The doctors refused to give the names of the patient or the 23-year-old donor. But other sources identified the recipient as Clois Roblain, a truck driver with a history of chronic heart disease. They said he entered neighboring La Salpetriere Hospital April 17 and was transferred to La Pitie 10 days later.

The donor later was identified as Michel Gyppaz, who sustained severe brain injuries Thursday when his sports car was involved in an accident in the Paris suburb of St. Denis.

Purge Continues

WARSAW (UPI) — At least six more Jews were reported today to have been ousted from their jobs. The purge showed no signs of slackening.

Five Brothers, Sisters Murdered; Youth Is Booked

CHARLESTON, Ill. (AP) — Thomas Charles Fuller, 18, is being held in Coles County jail without bond for a preliminary hearing tomorrow on charges of murdering three brothers and two sisters of a girl he reportedly dated.

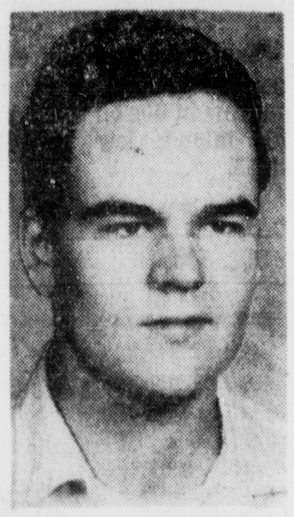
The youth was arrested yesterday near Eastern Illinois University some 13 hours after the five children of Mr. and Mrs. William Cox were shot to death outside their home near Mattoon.

The dead children were found Saturday night in and around a barn on the family farm. Deputy Coroner Jess Caudill said each of the victims had been shot in the head with a small caliber pistol and the two girls' heads also had been battered.

Killed in the slaughter were Lewis, 16; Theresa, 9; Mary Catharine, 8; Gary, 7, and Kenneth, 5.

Police said a teen-age daughter, Louise, 16, was home at the time of the slayings but was unharmed. Friends of the family said Louise, whose twin brother, Lewis, was killed, had been dating Fuller.

Authorities declined to discuss possible motives for the slayings and said they had no comment on whether the brown-haired youth made any statements.



THOMAS FULLER
Murder suspect

Fuller offered no resistance when he was seized by police near the university in Charleston, which is some 10 miles east of Mattoon. Police said he was carrying a .22-caliber revolver.

Police said Cox, a construction worker, and two elder sons were working on a truck several miles away from the two-story white frame farmhouse when the murders took place.

Californians 'Can' Vote For Humphrey

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The name of Hubert H. Humphrey won't appear on California's presidential primary ballot, but both his backers and those of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy agree Democrats can vote for the vice president on June 4 if they so wish.

How?

By voting for the delegation pledged to State Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch. It originally was to be a stand-in for President Johnson, but his withdrawal had left the delegation in something of a political limbo.

FOR HUMPHREY

Now, Humphrey's entry into the presidential campaign will offer California Democrats a chance to back the national administration over the other two men on the ballot—Kennedy and Minnesota Sen. Eugene McCarthy.

After Humphrey's announcement Saturday, Lynch said he would interpret a vote for his delegation as a vote for Humphrey.

Kennedy's state chairman, Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, agreed that "a vote for the Lynch delegation in the primary will represent a vote for Mr. Humphrey."

BROWN'S WORD

In Los Angeles, former Gov. Edmund G. Brown predicted the vice president is "going to make a terrific fight for the presidency .... I would rate him at the present moment the favorite."

However, he backed off from going along with the Unruh-Lynch view that Humphrey may be involved in the primary, in effect, because of the Lynch delegation.

On A Clear Day You Can See A Rainbow

. . . in the Kaehler-Farrar building—the Marin office building that cares about the individuality of its tenants.

No all-over battleship gray for us . . . nor gallons of No. 2 off-white, either. Each and every floor has its own color scheme.

Nor do we depend just on paint . . . we've used wallpapers, carpeting, and woods to give each floor its own identity.

We can do the same for your office, too.

From the minute you trod our red carpet entryway—everything we do is to give the individual the setting he wants for his office . . . and the services, too.

So . . . if you're looking for a little color in your business life . . . why not check with us. Check with our present tenants, too—they're, also, very colorful.

Injuries Minor In Auto Crash

Two persons suffered minor injuries Saturday in a two-car crash near Gate Five in Sausalito.

Karen S. Kenyon, 27, of 503 Caledonia Street, Sausalito, was treated for a bruised abdomen at Marin General Hospital. Her passenger, Susan E. Kenyon, 15, of the same address, was treated for face cuts.

A northbound car driven by James F. Keelin, 46, of 515 D Street, San Rafael, stopped on Bridgeway Boulevard at Ebbtide Avenue to allow a pedestrian to cross the road at 3:20 p.m. and was hit from the rear by the Kenyon car, according to the California Highway Patrol.

The marriage rate rose from 9.2 in 1965 to 9.4 in 1966, marking the 4th successive increase in the annual rate.

Supreme Court Reaffirms Libel Ruling

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court held today that a public official seeking defamation damages must show that his attacker had "serious doubts" of the truth of what he said.

The 8-1 decision in a Louisiana case basically reaffirmed standards the court set forth on libel cases by public figures in a 1964 case involving the New York Times.

On that occasion, the court held that the yardstick for determining whether a public official may collect a libel judgment is whether the statement in question was made with "actual malice."

Today's ruling brought the issue of "serious doubt" into play. The case arose from a suit brought by Herman A. Thompson, an East Baton Rouge parish deputy sheriff, against Phil A. St. Amant who mentioned Thompson's name in a broadcast speech while running for the Senate in 1962.

Thompson initially won a $5,000 judgment against St. Amant. This was upheld by the state supreme court after an appeals court reversal.

White said "by no proper test of reckless disregard was St. Amant's broadcast a reckless publication about a public officer."

"There must be sufficient evidence to permit the conclusion that the defendant in fact entertained serious doubts as to the truth of his publication. Publishing with such doubts shows reckless disregard for truth or falsity and demonstrates actual malice.

"It may be said that such a test puts a premium on ignorance, encourages the irresponsible publisher not to inquire, and permits the issue to be determined by the defendant's testimony that he published the statement in good faith and unaware of its probable falsity...

"But New York Times and succeeding cases have emphasized that the stake of the people in public business and the conduct of public officials is so great that neither the defense of truth nor the standard of ordinary care would protect against self-censorship and thus adequately implement first amendment policies."

In other actions, the court:

Let stand a ruling requiring employes of the University of Colorado to take an oath upholding both the state and federal constitutions is valid.

Rejected an appeal from a Florida man who sought to bar the display of a lighted cross on the Dade County courthouse lawn at Christmas time. Nishan Paul contended the cross was a religious symbol and that its use by the county government was unconstitutional.

Safety And Savvy Go Hand In Hand

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)— The better educated a driver is, the better his chance of staying alive on the highway, according to a recent study.

Prof. James M. Morgan of the University of Michigan said the education-safety correlation has to do with seat belts. He said three of four persons with education beyond that of a bachelor's degree use seat belts, at least some of the time. Among the population at large, he said, only one person of four used the belts, at least some of the time.

Vote Recount Set May 8

A recount of Sausalito's city council election, demanded by fourth-place finisher Marsha Owen, will start at 9 a.m. May 8 at Sausalito city hall.

The four-member counting board will be appointed by the city council at the May 7 meeting.

Mrs. Owen sought the recount after placing fourth in the contest for three council seats, losing third spot to George C. Hoffman 894 to 924. She must pay the cost of the recount if she still fails to gain a seat. If the recount places her ahead of Hoffman, the city will pay for the count.

Only Minor Injuries Suffered In Accident

A Bolinas man escaped with face cuts Saturday when his car went off Elm Road in Bolinas into a ditch at 12:45 a.m., California Highway Patrolmen reported.

Teamsters' Boss Scolds Members For Lazy Habits

HONOLULU (AP) — The president of the Teamsters Union in Hawaii, Arthur Rutledge, has publicly chastised certain members of his union whom he calls "goof-offs."

Speaking in a union newspaper, Rutledge said there are too kinds of goof-offs. They are:

"The worker who takes a day off the job whenever the notion strikes him, for no properly excusable reason.

"And the worker who abuses the state unemployment compensation program."

Rutledge said the goof-offs make it difficult for the union to settle legitimate grievances among other workers.

the killing of at least 347 Communists.

For two years the North Vietnamesee had built the almost Shangri-La like valley into the well-equipped base that they hoped to use, according to U.S. intelligence, to break allied control of South Vietnam's northern quarter.

The tanks, trucks, bulldozers, arms and men lodged in A Shau funnelled down from North Vietnam's supply lines were struck yesterday by the U.S. jest. American spokesmen said the two men aboard a downed F4 Phantom were rescued. The pilot of a Navy A4 Skyhawk was missing after the second loss of the raiding.

According to helicopter pilots, the North Vietnamese vainly tried to thwart the American assault on A Shau with radar-directed anti-aircraft fire as heavy as that over North Vietnam itself.

Horse camps — $2 and $1.

Boat camps — $1 and 50 cents.

Group camping rates will be 25 cents per person with a $2.50 or 10 person daily minimum and no special off-season rates.

Park users may also obtain a $10 annual permit at any camp unit charging a day-use fee. The $10 permit is also available to boat owners who otherwise will be charged $1 a day for launching during the regular season and 50 cents a day off-season.

In Marin, Mount Tamalpais State Park offers Class C campsites and Samuel P. Tayler Park has Class A campsites. Both parks have group camping facilities and day-use areas.

Other state parks in Marin, including those at Stinson Beach, Tomales Bay and Angel Island are for day-use only.

The season and off-season dates will be reversed at five desert parks and recreation areas in Southern California where seasonal rates will apply from Oct. 1 through May 31 and off-season rates from June 1 through Sept. 30.

Three Arrested In Sausalito Fuss

Three young San Franciscans were booked at Marin County Jail yesterday after a fight erupted at Zack's restaurant and bar in Sausalito.

Two employees at Zack's, Wendell Helwig and Douglas L. Beneck, made citizens' arrests of Michael John McKay, 23, James Joseph Lee, 23, and Susan Carrie Flusher, 25, for disturbing the peace.

Restaurant employees told Sausalito police the two men were causing a disturbance, and a fight started when Helwig and Beneck asked them to leave. Miss Flusher, who was with the two San Francisco men, reportedly also entered the fray, which ended when police arrived.

The three posted bail of $125 apiece to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

San Rafael Schools Top Music List

San Rafael City Schools topped other Marin schools with three "command performance" ratings at the annual northern California Music Festival sponsored by the Music Educators of California at the College of Marin Saturday.

Designated as command performance groups were the Davidson Junior High School band, directed by Terrie Summa, the Davidson school orchestra, directed by Robert Jacobson, and the Terra Linda High School band, directed by Gordon Lowe.

The groups, rated on a five point scale, had to receive a superior rating from the three judges in sight reading and general performance to win the top rating.

Other musical groups participating included the San Rafael High School band, directed by Terrie Summa, rated superior; Terra Linda High School orchestra, Gordon Lowe, excellent; Tamalpais High School band, Robert Greenwood, excellent, superior in sight reading; Redwood High School orchestra, Sidney Gordon, excellent; Mill Valley elementary school band, Tod Fleming, excellent; and Mill Valley elementary school orchestra, Joseph D. Angiulo, excellent.

The command performance groups will perform at a special concert later in the year, according to Hugo Rinaldi, director of music for the San Rafael City Schools.

Five Cars Hit By Burglars In Homestead Valley

Car burglars had a field day in Homestead Valley Saturday, breaking into five autos and scattering some of the stolen property around the area.

Sheriff's deputies reported Mary Maddock of 117 La Verne Avenue had a sewing machine stolen from her car. Yale D. Hills of 91 Montford Avenue reported an old briefcase was taken from his car but it was found in Rose Avenue.

Martin I. Zankel of 444 La Verne Avenue said area maps and architects drawing equipment were stolen from his car but they were found later in a field across from 637 Glenwood Avenue.

Found in the same area were items belonging to James E. Skahill of Arcadia who reported sample toys worth $150 and personal papers were stolen from his auto parked at 90 La Verne Avenue.

Little League baseball equipment worth $175 was stolen from Alfred E. Lowry's car at 407 Montford Avenue and later found discarded at Melrose and Montford avenues.

children and a grandchild were ineligible for welfare because of residence requirements.

At that time Robinson said he had been working on the case since December. Immediately following the story, numerous offers of aid came to the family.

In a letter dated April 26, Robinson said in part: "As community workers, we are not allowed to release any information to the newspaper regardless of the hardship a family may be subjected to, I took my chances and was fired because I spoke out."

Cary said, "This is unequivocally untrue."

He said lack of funds made it necessary to give notice to two of his workers on May 22.

"I like Robbie very much personally," he said, "But after discussing him with his supervisor and Gil Medeiros, chairman of the personnel committee, we decided he would have to be one of the ones to go."

Cary said there is no ruling which prevents release of hardship case information to the press. He said he preferred not to, but in the Allen case, if Robinson had asked his permission to release it, "I probably would have said yes."

Robinson was a temporary employee, Cary said, who was scheduled to be released on March 31. However, he was able to keep him on until last week, when Robinson was given two weeks notice.

Mrs. Tennler, who characterized Robinson as "a fine young man," said today, "This is a gross miscarriage of justice." She said he had told her that he saw so much poverty in Vietnam that he wanted to help alleviate it here.

Robinson was unavailable for comment today. Cary pointed out that if he feels he was unjustly dismissed, he can go before the county personnel board and contest the firing.

Burglars Loot Piggy Banks

Burglars who entered the Lester T. Gardner home at 24 Juno Road, Tiburon, Saturday, with a penchant for piggy banks and milk, are suspected of being youthful, according to sheriff's deputies.

Mrs. Lester T. Fitzsimmons of 21 Juno Road, told deputies yesterday that she was caring for the Gardner home while the family was away for the weekend and discovered Saturday the kitchen door was open. Three piggy banks had been broken, the coins taken also some children's games, deputies said, and a half-gallon of milk in the refrigerator had been consumed.

DiGrazia Granted Divorce From Wife

Novato Police Chief Robert J. di Grazia, 39, has been granted a divorce in Marin Superior Court from his wife of 13 years, Patricia A. di Grazia.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson granted the divorce on grounds of cruelty. The couple married July 3, 1954, in San Francisco, and separated Nov. 3.

Insanity Plea By Inmate In Slaying Case

San Quentin Prison escapee John Lynn, 24, today entered a plea of innocent by reason of insanity to a charge of killing Lake County Deputy Sheriff David Hoyt, 52, on Oct. 11, 1967.

San Francisco Superior Court Judge Joseph Karesh appointed Drs. Arthur Larfagni and Roland Levy to examine Lynn and report back to the court on May 27.

Larry Taylor, 22, suspected of the same crime, will enter a plea at that time. The case was transferred from Lake County to San Francisco after Lake County Superior Judge Ralph DeVoto disqualified himself.

Lynn, Taylor and a third convict, Raymond Pettis, escaped from the Konocti Conservation Camp last Sept. 24. After being recaptured, it is charged that they attempted to escape from the Lake County jail and killed Hoyt during the break.

Suspect Cited In Marijuana Case

A 15-year-old Larkspur boy was cited to Juvenile Hall Saturday on suspicion of possession of marijuana after being found with another juvenile boy on a motorcycle in Tiburon.

Sheriff's Deputy Ronald C. Spurrell reported stopping the motorcycle in Paradise Park at 5:55 p.m. to check the driver's license, and noticed a plastic container in the youth's pocket which smelled like marijuana.

Three home-made cigarettes and two plastic bags, which appeared to contain Marijuana, were also found in the boy's clothing, deputy Spurrell said.

Ruby's Tombstone Found On Street

CHICAGO (UPI) — A 150-pound tombstone inscribed "Beloved Son Jack Ruby, April 25, 1911—January 3, 1967," was found on a northwest side street Saturday night.

The tombstone had been abandoned by vandals after they took it from Ruby's grave in Westlawn Cemetery in suburban Norridge, where Ruby was buried following his death from cancer in a Texas hospital.

Ruby was convicted of shooting to death Lee Harvey Oswald, named in the Warren Commission Report as the sembly Transportation and assassin of President John F. Kennedy, in a Dallas police station two days after the assassination.

Mother Forgets Her Child During Ride On A Bus

One driver found a purse. Inside was a loaded revolver. A messenger on the way to the bank left his weekly deposit — about $2,000. Drivers also have found false teeth, ladies undergarments and shoes.

A lunchbox left aboard one bus lingered long in the memory of Mike Tate, president of Memphis Transit Authority's operating company.

"We put that lunchbox on the shelf, but what we didn't know was that it had limburger cheese in it. We thought a rat must have died under the floor of the lost articles room. We tore the whole floor up before we realized where the smell was."

But the most absent-minded passenger of all was a mother who got off and left her 3-year-old son behind.

"She called up and said she had actually forgotten her kid," Tate said.

Dick Gregory Offices Open

BERKELEY (UPI) — The Dick Gregory for President Committee today opened campaign headquarters in San Diego and Berkeley with a call for local Peace and Freedom Party chapters to endorse him.

The party, which won a place on the November election ballot by signing up 105,000 members late last year, is expected to nominate Gregory as its presidential candidate this summer.

The Negro comedian and civil rights advocate already has been nominated by Peace and Freedom units in Pennsylvania and Kentucky. He is running as a write-in candidate elsewhere, his backers said.

Guilty Plea To Reduced Charge

J. D. Sumner, 33, of San Rafael, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court Friday to a charge that he disturbed the peace of James D. Williamson, 30, of Larkspur, Feb. 14 at the Red Kettle Restaurant in San Rafael.

Sumner and Nancy L. Chambers, 33, of San Rafael, were originally charged with misdemeanor battery, when police reported they attacked Williamson with a plate, a cup and a knife.

The charge against Miss Chambers was dropped Friday by the district attorney. Sumner is to be sentenced May 17.

Must Relearn King's English

LONDON (AP) — British-born actress Joanna Pettet is relearning the Queen's English for her role in the comedy "The Best House in London," now being made in Britain.

Joanna's problem is that she was brought up in Canada and has recently made her home in the United States. Now she has to iron out the American and Canadian accent and talk like an English girl again.

"It hasn't been easy picking up the English inflections again," she said.

Sentencing Is Set On A Bogus Check

Patricia Schwarz of Mill Valley will be sentenced May 17 in Marin Municipal Court for passing a $55 bad check with San Rafael Van and Storage Co. Oct. 10, when the company moved her furniture to 70 Upland Avenue, Mill Valley.

She pleaded guilty to the misdemeanor charge in Municipal Court Friday after the district attorney reduced the charge from the felony originally filed.

Broken Water Main Interrupts Service

A broken water line interrupted service for 15 homes in Belvedere from 6 a.m. until 11 a.m. when it was repaired, according to Bill G. Grant, administrative engineer for the Marin Municipal Water District.

The break occurred on Lagoon Road near San Rafael Avenue, Grant said.

The countess died Tuesday in Vrapce, near Zagreb, Yugoslavia, after a short illness. She was 90. She was the widow of Count Ladislav Kolitsch De Sessy, former Supreme Court Justice of Austria-Hungary.

She is survived by three children, six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Urban Highway Mistake Creates More Problems

HONOLULU (AP) — Author Paul Goodman, speaking here at a symposium on "The Plight of the City," says most of the problems of urban society result from an "unphilosophical approach to planning."

As examples he referred to communities that bulldoze down buildings to build highways.

In turn, he said, the people who have been displaced from the bulldozed buildings have to move to the suburbs, and have highways built to get them back to the city.

"This unphilosophical approach can lead to poor planning which is worse than no planning at all," he said.

Chicago Opens Study On Police Manpower

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Police Department is engaged in a two-year research project to determine the most effective use of its resources and manpower.

A grant of $150,000 was awarded by the U.S. Department of Justice, Office of Law Enforcement Assistance to carry out the project. The grant will be matched by $270,000 of department funds.

Uncovered Dynamite Sticks Destroyed

Forty sticks of dynamite were destroyed by Army bomb disposal men at Black Point Friday after they were found in a shed in an unused, construction yard there, sheriff's deputies said today.

The dynamite, believed left in the shed by former tenants, was found by new owner Perle S. Harless of Tiburon, who was inspecting the property. The sticks were in a decomposed state.

READY FOR MARCH

Bondage Charge By Abernathy

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Rev. Ralph Abernathy today launched the first phase of the late Martin Luther King's poor people's crusade, charging that the federal government has sold the nation's ghetto dwellers into bondage.

Abernathy, who succeeded Dr. King as head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, led more than 100 representatives of "the black, brown and white poor of America" in talks with cabinet members and other government leaders.

The delegation, in a statement prepared for submission to antipoverty officials, accused the government of failing "to help us take our rightful places as dignified and independent citizens in our communities."

"Our manhood and womenhood have been sold into bondage to local politicians and hostile governors," the crusaders said. "You have failed us."

Three days of talks with government leaders are the initial phase of a poor people's march on Washington next month. It was organized by King before his slaying to demand "mammoth" new federal efforts to provide jobs, housing and guaranteed incomes to the needy.

TWO HOURS LATE

The delegation of poor people began their conferences with government leaders at the Agriculture Department, arriving two hours late. They demanded that the United States immediately launch a five-point campaign on hunger.

In a meeting with Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman, Abernathy called for establishment of federal food donation programs in 256 counties currently without such programs; action to end alleged discrimination against Negro farmers, and abolition of soil bank programs.

IGNORING POOR

The Abernathy and his group charged that government programs which pay farmers to let part of their land lay idle "subsidizes large farmers while ignoring the poor."

The delegation urged the Office of Economic Opportunity to issue new regulations to provide for "citizen participation" in antipoverty programs. It charged that any war-on-poverty program which does not have the "involvement of the poor" should be stripped of funds.

Sen. Brooke's Daughter To Marry White

NEW MILFORD, N.J. (AP) —The 19-year-old daughter of Negro Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., and a white Monmouth College student plan to marry in June, the student's parents disclosed today.

The date of the marriage between Remi Brooke and Donald R. Hasler, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene F. Hasler of New Milford, has tentatively been set for June 22.

Brooke is the first Negro to be elected to the Senate since Reconstruction. He is married to a white woman.

Mrs. Hasler, asked how she felt about her son marrying into a racially mixed family commented:

"It makes no difference, they're in love."

She said her son met Remi, who attends Northeastern University in Boston, at a party last year in New Milford.

Only Two Listed As Billionnaires

NEW YORK (AP) — A Fortune magazine survey report says the two richest Americans —the only ones who probably can be listed as billionaires— are oilman J. Paul Getty and financier Howard Hughes.

The May issue of the magazine says Getty, 75, and Hughes, 62, are followed by six other Americans who are half billionaires and 153 who have a net worth of more than $100 million each.

It estimates Hughes' wealth at $985,500,000 conservatively and $1,373,000,000 liberally.

Fortune says that a similar survey it made in 1957 estimated Getty's wealth between $700 million and $1 billion, and Hughes' wealth between $200 million and $400 million.

Listed in the $200 million to $300 million class are New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and his brothers—David, John and Laurance, all of New York, and Winthrop, governor of Arkansas.

Youth Injured In Auto Crash

A 12-year-old Belvedere boy, a passenger in his sister's car, suffered a cut forehead yesterday in a two-car accident at the intersection of San Rafael Avenue and Beach Road.

Todd Moran, of 12 Lagoon Road, was treated at Marin General Hospital.

In heavy traffic, during festivities for opening day of the yachting season, a westbound car driven by Mary L. Moran, 17, of the same address, collided head-on with an eastbound car driven by Virginia P. Baldwin, 27, of 38 Reed Ranch Road, Tiburon at 1:26 p.m., according to police.

Top Acting Awards Are Presented

Lois Wright was given the award for the best actress and Ralph White the best actor of the year Saturday night at the annual awards and installation dinner of the Novato Community Players at Nero's restaurant in Novato.

Mrs. Wright won her award for the leading part of Ella in "Bells Are Ringing," and White won his award as the captain in "Mr. Roberts," the two Broadway shows presented by the club last year.

Jackie Hall was chosen the best supporting actress as Sue and Donald Leaf the best supporting actor as Leaf, both in "Bells Are Ringing."

Paul Terry was given the trophy for the most outstanding member of the club. Max Keeler won the most improved actor award. Vincent McGovern received the award for the best director.

Special awards for production work went to Patricia Conway, Albert Richter, Shirley Nilsen and Marie Bliss.

New officers installed were Gerald Lombard, president; Roland Brown, vice president; Albert Richter, treasurer; Vivienne Terry, historian, and Ann Ramsay, secretary.

Air Pollution

Paul Brand, inspector for the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, will discuss air pollution at a breakfast meeting of the Marin County Real Estate Board at 8 a.m. tomorrow at the Lions Club in Corte Madera. Brand will show a short film, "Cleaner Air: A Progress Report."

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a medication with the ability, in most cases —to promptly stop itching, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids.

Tests by doctors proved that in case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction of the inflamed hemorrhoids took place.

The secret is Preparation H®. There's no other formula like it! Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Musicians In Finals For Awards

Two youthful Marin musicians have become finalists in the first annual Pepsi-Cola Young Musicians Awards, held at San Francisco State College.

Carol Tomlinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Tomlinson, 264 Emerystone Drive, San Rafael, achieved the finals as a violinist. She is a student at Miller Creek School.

Bert Truax, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester T. Truax, 110 Jordan, San Anselmo, is a trumpet player. He attends Red Hill School in San Anselmo.

Both musicians and the music departments of their schools will be presented award plaques.

Who's Right, Wrong On Highway 17 View?

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, at a meeting of his campaign workers today in Fairfax, claimed that his Second District opponent, Peter R. Arrigoni, is fashioning a campaign issue where none exists regarding Highway 17 extension.

"I and my opponent both are utterly against any east-west freeway," said Kettenhofen. "The only difference is that I think he is right in agreeing with me, and he thinks I am wrong in agreeing with him."

Stolen TV Set Found Near House

Whoever stole a $125 television set from Douglas S. Scherf of 755 Bay Road, Tamalpais Valley Friday didn't get far with it.

The set was found yesterday covered by a blanket on a hillside at the back of the house. The discovery was made by three small boys who called sheriff's deputies.

Leg Treated

'Time Of Your Life' Series Get Support

Response to a television series on human reproduction being shown to many Marin County elementary school children has been almost completely favorable, school officials reported today.

The TV series, entitled "Time of Your Life," which is available to schools throughout the Bay Area, has been discontinued in the Burlingame schools because of parental opposition.

The series was produced by educational station KQED and is shown on Monday nights for parental preview. The program is then rebroadcast on Tuesdays for classroom use.

Fourth through seventh graders in San Rafael schools have been viewing the series, according to William C. Jordan, assistant superintendent of schools. "There have been no complaints about the programs as far as I know," he said.

In the Dixie School District, Supt. Dennie B. Willis said that the program, which was previewed by parent groups before being shown to classes, has been "99 per cent favorably received." He added that the only two complaints from parents that he had received came from people who did not join the discussion of the program beforehand.

"We found it an excellent program and will try to have it repeated here next year," Mrs. Katherine De Brecht, school nurse for the Reed School District said.

Mill Valley Schools, where the program is shown to children as young as first through third graders, has also received "very supportive" response from parents, according to Supt. James A. Collins.

The series, which was developed by a physician and educational specialists, covers such aspects of reproduction as male and female anatomy, fertilization and development of the ovum.

Supt. George White of the Burlingame schools said that many parents described the series as "too graphic" for elementary school children.

Ross, Sausalito and Bolinas-Stinson Beach Districts have not used the series this year, and many of the districts, including Novato, have left the showing of the film to the discretion of the principals and teachers of various classes.

Tiburon Woman's Condition Fair

A Tiburon woman was in fair condition today in Marin General Hospital after she reportedly took an overdose of sleeping pills combined with liquor.

A friend in San Francisco, according to the sheriff's office telephoned at 5:05 p.m. yesterday that Mrs. Gerda Brimo, 25, of 28 Marinero Circle, Apt. 4, had called and said she was going to take her own life and had consumed 20 sleeping pills and a fifth of liqour.

Deputies found Mrs. Brimo unconscious on her living room couch and called an ambulance, they said.

Sanity Trial For Herrera Tomorrow

Joaquin Antonio Herrera, who wants to defend himself against a charge of murder, will be the subject of a sanity trial, requested by his court-appointed attorney, in Marin Superior Court tomorrow.

Herrera, a 23-year-old El Salvador immigrant, claims he is both innocent of a charge that he killed a San Rafael soldier Jan. 9 and sane.

Harold J. Truett, deputy public defender, asked for the jury trial, saying there is some doubt as to whether Herrera understands the nature of the charge against him and is capable of cooperating with a lawyer in the preparation of a defense.

On April 9, Herrera told Judge Joseph G. Wilson that he wants to defend himself because Truett wanted to postpone the murder trial so that he can get acquainted with the case.

"If anything is going to drive me crazy, it's going to be waiting in jail and being separated from my wife because of something I haven't done," he said.

The sanity trial, scheduled to run a week, will be before Judge Samuel W. Gardiner.

Youths Held On Drinking Law Violation

Three young persons were booked into county jail Saturday for investigation of possession of alcohol by minors and of contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year-old Belvedere girl, after being found in a Jeep in Tiburon.

Sheriff's Deputy John O. Goff reported he stopped the Jeep at 1:30 a.m. on Tiburon Boulevard and Avenida Miraflores for defective tail-lights and unsafe speed and found two bottles of wine in the car.

The driver, David L. Boese, 19, of 124 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, was also cited for possessing no driver's license and driving over the double yellow line. He was held in lieu of $882 bail.

Juliette T. Van Dyke 18, of 224 Woodward Avenue, Sausalito, was released on bail of $690.

Thornton L. Smith, 20, of 49 Roque Morales, Mill Valley, was held on $690 bail. The three were to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

The 17-year-old girl was cited to the Juvenile Bureau for investigation of possession of alcohol and violating the 11 p.m. curfew.

Student Ordered To Trial On Marijuana Counts

A 23-year-old San Francisco State College student, arrested in November 1966 for allegedly having a $20,000 cache of marijuana in the trunk of his car in San Rafael, must face narcotics charges May 13 in Marin Superior Court.

Garth J. B. Upton of South San Francisco, must enter pleas on charges of possession of marijuana and possession of the weed for sale, said Judge Harold J. Haley.

His case has been inactive in Marin Superior Court since January 1967, when Judge Joseph G. Wilson ruled that a search of Upton's car was illegal. Officers said they found two suitcases of finely manicured marijuana when they searched the vehicle Nov. 18, 1966.

The district attorney appealed the case and the California District Court of Appeal overruled Judge Wilson's decision in January.

Upton appealed the case to the California Supreme Court and lost.

Draft Law Revision Plan Given Knocking

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A special White House task force has challenged every major draft reform recommended by the National Advisory Commission on Selective Service, it was reported today.

The Washington Post said the still unreleased report concludes that few improvements could be made in Selective Service policy and takes issue with all major organizational changes proposed by the commission.

The task force, made up of the draft director, Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and former Budget Director Charles L. Schultze, was appointed last year by President Johnson to evaluate reforms recommended by the commission.

The Post said the task force criticized the commission, which was headed by former Assistant Atty. Gen. Burke Marshall, for not taking "into account widely varying local conditions" and for proposing "theoretical alternatives (that) are not practical."

The Marshall commission was critical of wide differences in criteria by which the 4,000 local draft boards determine whether or not to defer young men from military service.

But the presidential task force rejected the idea of a centralized draft system and said the varying criteria used by local boards were "justified by dissimilar local conditions," the Post said.

Rockefeller Entry Seen Tomorrow

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York is expected to announce his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination at a news conference in the state capital tomorrow.

The governor's press secretary, Leslie Slote, in a brief statement today said, "Governor Rockefeller will have an announcement concerning his political plans at 11 a.m. (EDT) tomorrow in the Red Room of the capitol."

The news conference comes on the eve of a nationwide speaking tour by Rockefeller which begins Wednesday in Philadelphia.

A leading Republican supporter of the governor said yesterday he thought Rockefeller would soon announce his candidacy.

Sources close to the governor said he would announce his candidacy at the news conference despite Rockefeller's earlier statements that he would not become an active candidate before the Miami convention.

Fifth High Ranking Czech Official Discovered Dead

PRAGUE (UPI)—The Czech news agency CTK today reported the suicide Saturday of a top police official—the third suicide of the weekend and the fifth since the downfall of the 15-year-old Stalinist regime of Antonin Novotny in January.

The latest victim was Lt. Col. Dr. Jiri Pocepicky, Prague's chief police investigator. His body was discovered hanging in a wooded area near the famous west Bohemian SPA of Marienbad. There were reports he had left a series of farewell letters.

All of the alleged suicides of high ranking officials thus far have been committed by persons either directly or indirectly implicated in many of the show trials and purges of the past Stalinist regimes. One reported suicide was that of a factory manager accused of mismanagement.

Last Friday Dr. Josef Sommer, supervisor of medical care in a Prague jail for political prisoners, took his life. Prague newspapers said Sommer signed death certificates giving false causes for the death of political prisoners.

Yesterday the Prague newspaper Rude Pravo reported that Karoslav Holub, manager of the Kdyn Engineering works near Domazlice, also in western Bohemia, had taken his life after other factory workers demanded his resignation on grounds of mismanagement.

Earlier this month Dr. Josef Brestansky, 42, Czechoslovakia's deputy supreme court president, was found dead by hanging in the woods outside the Czech capital. A Slovak newspaper had accused him of presiding over a rigged purge trial in Bratislava 13 years ago.

And in late March Col. Gen. Vladimir Janko, a deputy defense minister, shot himself to death while being driven to a Central Committee hearing in Prague. He was implicated in a plot to use the army to prevent liberal reformer Alexander Dubcek from succeeding Novotny in January.

Dromedaries were imported a century ago to Australia. The one-hump camels now rove in wild herds.

Influenza Outbreak At Academy

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (UPI)—The Air Force Academy suspended classes for at least 24 hours today because of a viral infection which struck cadets and students at nearby schools during the weekend.

AFA officials said between 400 and 500 cadets had been treated for the infection, described as a combination of influenza and strep throat.

The 135-bed academy hospital was filled to capacity and the AFA gymnasium was being used to accommodate other bedridden patients.

There are more than 3,000 servicemen stationed at the academy.

An Air Force spokesman said today a team of specialists from Colorado State University academy last night to assist Air Force doctors in isolating the virus.

Dominican Students Name New Officers

Margaret Glockner, a junior from Lancaster, Ohio, has been elected president for 1968-69 by the associated students of Dominican College of San Rafael.

Other new officers named were Ann Stella and Eleanor Nelle, both of San Francisco, secretary and treasurer; Kathryn Atkins, Salinas, social chairman; Marilyn Mellot, Santa Rosa, religious activities chairman, and Marianne Lucid of Lakewood, Colo., editor of the Carillon, student newspaper.

Beilenson Reception

A reception for Sen. Anthony Beilenson, D-Los Angeles, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate, will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Athearn, 146 Cascade Drive, Mill Valley. The reception is sponsored by the Marin Beilenson for Senate Committee and the Marin Council of Democratic Clubs.

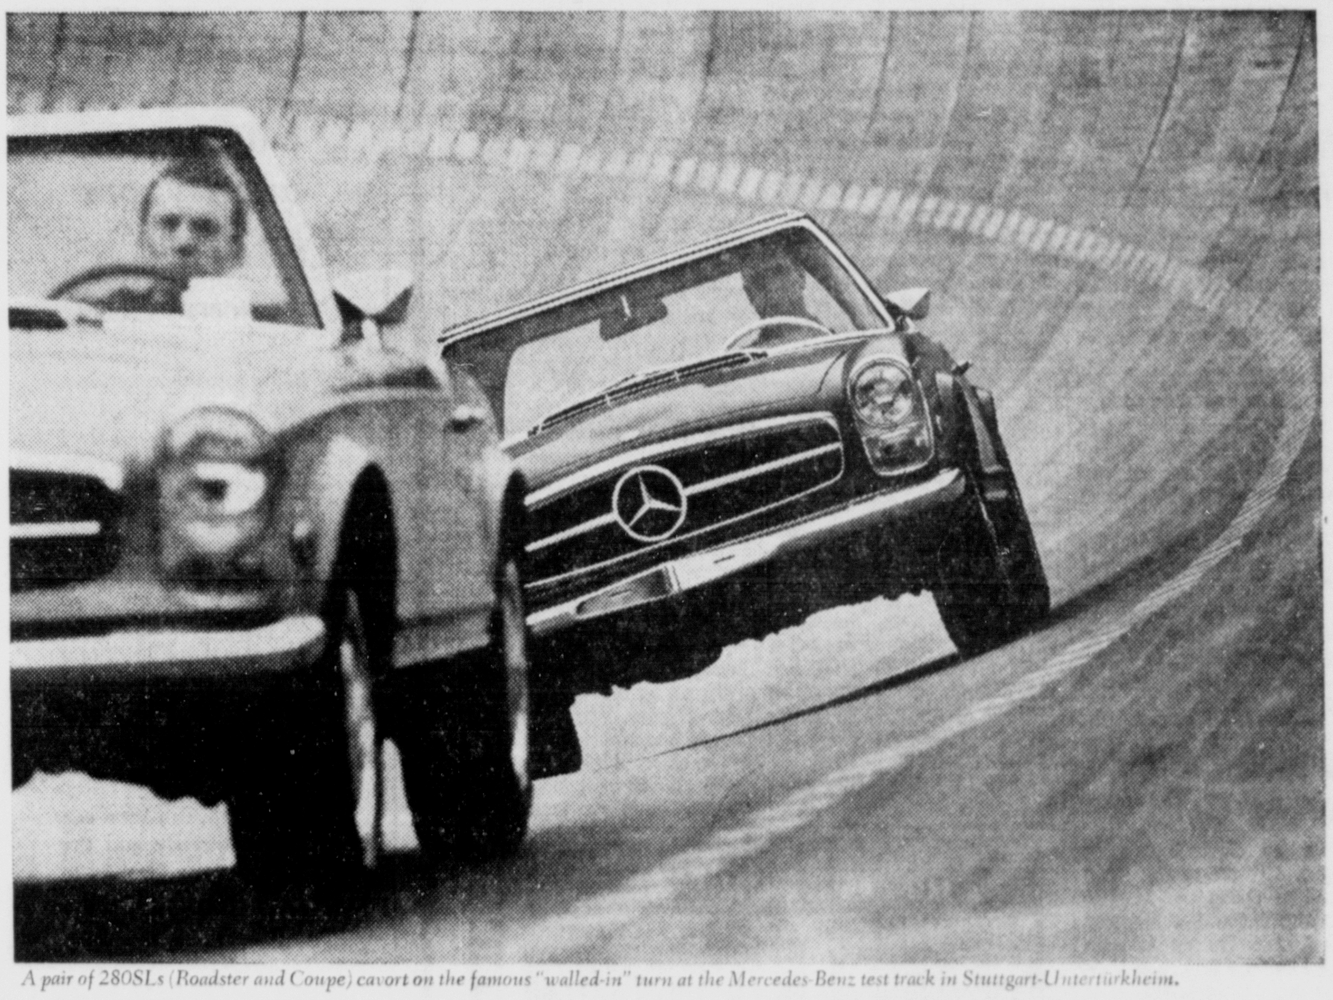
The new Mercedes-Benz 280SL: so "over-engineered" it maneuvers in traffic like a whippet in a herd of buffalo.



A pair of 280SLs (Roadster and Coupe) cavort on the famous "walled-in" turn at the Mercedes-Benz test track in Stuttgart-Untertürkheim.

"Handling," says the London Sunday Times in a road test of the new Mercedes-Benz sports car, "was the main requirement for the 280SL design. Thanks to the sophisticated suspension, it is possible to throw the car around at speeds which could never be attempted outside a test track without losing control."

Or, in the words of an enthusiast who just took delivery of one: "It maneuvers in traffic like a whippet in a herd of buffalo."

Get an end-view of the 280SL and you'll quickly see why. Although the car stands a mere yard and a half high, it straddles the road with a track over 5 feet wide. Its special, radial-ply tires seem to bulge out from the sides. It squats on the road, in the Sunday Times' words, "like a bulldog."

"Over-engineered" suspension

The same ingenious suspension that gives the 280SL such uncanny roadholding is also responsible for its astonishingly smooth ride. The reason: the 280SL's fully independent suspension lets one wheel absorb a jolt without transmitting the shock to the other wheels, or to the car's occupants.

Is this too much of a good thing? Some critics say it's a wasteful extravagance to build a sports car with both race-track handling and a boulevard ride. "Over-engineered" is what the critics call it.

They're right. By conventional standards, the 280SL is "over-engineered." Mercedes-Benz engineers look at it this way: What fun would it be to drive a small, agile car if it rode like an ox-cart?

The Sunday Times answers the question by saying, "This is a sports car, of course, and a powerful one. What is astonishing about it is the thrust and speed it offers without disturbing at all the feeling of comfort and safety evoked in the driver or passenger."

A functional design

The Sunday Times write-up goes on to say that the 280SL accommodations are, "superb, with an admirable attention to detail which makes the Mercedes-Benz one of the most comfortable sporting cars available anywhere.

"Compared with the overloaded look of many quality car interiors—all wood and plush and carpet, like a 19th-century drawing room—this Mercedes-Benz is almost sparse. But it is the sparseness of elegance and brilliant functional design, the almost architectural principle of 'less is more.'"

"Fatigue-proof" seats

Heady praise, indeed. But no detail is ever too small to catch the eye of the Mercedes-Benz engineers. The shape of the seats, for example, is anatomically correct. Orthopedic physicians were called in to help contour the seats so you'll have proper support all the way from your shoulders to your knees.

You'll notice how much more room there is inside a 280SL. More shoulder room than a Mercury Cougar. More forward legroom than a certain Rolls-Royce. You don't punch your passenger in the knee, or skin your knuckles on the dash when you change gears. You don't massage your head on the roof, or "bottom-out" the seat when you go over a "thank-you-ma'am." A shrewdly designed little car.

Overhead-cam, fuel-injection Six

The 280SL's engine is an overhead-camshaft, fuel-injection Six—about the most exotic power plant this side of a racetrack. But you don't need an exotic mechanic to keep it running. All of its components are already well-proved in Mercedes-Benz passenger cars.

The overhead-cam layout (borrowed from World Champion Mercedes-Benz racing cars) permits high engine speeds without the fuss and clatter of conventional pushrods. Seven main bearings and fuel injection give it smooth pick-up from low engine speeds, without pitching, bucking, coughing or stalling.

4-wheel disc brakes

No matter how good an engine is, Mercedes-Benz engineers insist that the brakes be better. So they equipped the 280SL with 4-wheel disc brakes—the same kind used on 180-mph Grand Prix racing cars. With 421.1 square inches of braking area, it's almost impossible to outrun the 280SL's brakes.

Built to last

The 280SL is built not only to prevail but also to endure. The body is carefully built up from nearly 100 steel panels selected from a dozen different gauges. They're welded into a single structure of immense strength and rigidity. There are over 10,000 separate welds in its "unitized" body/chassis construction. Squeaks and rattles from loose body bolts just can't happen.

DRAMA REVIEW

Play About Chekhov Insight Into Life

By KARL BARRON

SAN FRANCISCO — Although telephones had been invented in the time that Anton Chekhov lived, the old-fashioned letter, now almost forgotten, was still in vogue as a means of communication. We can be grateful, for without letters "Long Live Life" would not have been written.

The "letter play" about Chekhov was one of several inspired by the 1963 production of Jerome Kilty's "Dear Liar" by the Moscow Art Theater. The Chekhov piece, called "My Mocking Bliss," was written by M. Malyugin, who sent the script to Kilty. Kilty re-worked it and last night's production by the American Conservatory Theater at the Marines Memorial is the result.

TWO LOVES

Directed by Kilty, it is a non-play with some fine dramatic moments and a great amount of insight into the mind of the great Russian novelist and dramatist. That insight comes not just from his own letters, but those of his sister, brother, Maxim Gorky and the two loves of Chekhov's life.

The first, Lidia Mizinova, "Leeka," is obviously the model for Nina in "The Seagull." Like Nina, she ran away with a man, had a child and was deserted. As she is portrayed by DeAnn Mears, overtones of the unhappy Nina run through Leeka's letters.

The second woman in Chekhov's live is Olga Knipper, a Moscow Arts Theater actress whose most famous roles were the leads in "Uncle Vanya," "The Three Sisters," and "The Cherry Orchard." Olga married Chekhov just three years before his death at age 44 from tuberculosis.

THE PEOPLE

Some of the playwright's finest observations come from his letters, as when he writes "Everyone a little dirtier and less bright than us, we call 'the people'."

Chekhov's ability to retain a sense of humor in the face of overwhelming adversity shines throughout the play. Plagued by lung trouble through his life, reviled by the critics, always in debt, he still managed to laugh at himself and in his final moments, wrote letters to Masha, his sister, describing his glowing health.

Kilty has staged the piece to compensate for the fact that letters are not a part of actual physical contact. When Olga comes to see Anton in the country, they meet, he hands her some flowers and they walk upstage, arm in arm, in silence. Then another letter excerpt begins. When they are married, he slips a ring on her finger, she leans against him and begins a letter to Masha, describing the wedding.

ADDING TO MOOD

Paul Staheli's setting instantly suggests Chekhov, with a stark tree on one side and worn tapestries on the other. Music by Ellen Geer and Dale Ramey adds to the mood.

Ken Ruta does an outstanding job as Chekhov. He ages and withers perceptibly as the play progresses. His voice runs the gamut from sonority as he reads lines from the plays to squeaky petulance as things begin to get him down.

Miss Mears plays both Leeka and Olga, changing her face competely for Olga with the addition of a Grecian profile. Her differentiation between the flighty, flirtatious Leeka and the solidity of character that marks Olga is excellent.

FINE BRAVADO

Ramon Bieri plays Maxim Gorki, beset by the police, walking his way across Russia, with fine bravado. George Ede portrays Alexei Chekhov, who wanted to write satire, but ended up doing serials for the Firemen's Gazette. Ede comes up with just the right mixture of envy and affection. Miss Geer completes the cast as Masha, a pitiful spinster who wails her way through life. I hope Miss Geer will soon get a role not requiring her to weep, which she does so efficiently.

"Long Live Life" now joins the repertory.

Car-Bike Tangle Injures Boy, 12

A 12-year-old Novato boy was hospitalized Saturday after his bicycle tangled with an automobile on Novato Boulevard, west of San Marin Drive.

Michael O. Fagan, of 1501 Park Court, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Fagan, was kept overnight in Novato General Hospital, with multiple cuts and bruises, and sent home yesteerday.

California Highway Patrolmen said a car driven by Norman C. Danielson, 64, of Tomales Bay, started to pass the bicycle. As Danielson blew the horn the boy pulled left into the path of the car at 10:24 a.m., patrolmen reported.

Sculptor Exhibit Now At College

Works by eight Bay Area sculptors are on exhibit until May 10 at College of Marin's art gallery in the new fine arts building. The gallery is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from 6:30 to 10 p.m. weekdays. It is closed Saturdays and Sundays.

Exhibitors are Paul Harris, Joe Hawley, Mel Henderson, Charles McKee, Marvin Lipofsky, Gary Molitor, Gerald Walburg and Robert Strini.

'LOOKING GLASS' — Sean Stephens, San Francisco high school student, will appear as Alice in "Alice Through the Looking Glass" May 19 and 26 on Mount Tamalpais in the 51st production of the Mountain Play. Performances begin at 2 p.m. both days, and the public may picnic on the mountain before curtain time.

Elizabethan Village Planned

Plans for an Elizabethan village adjacent to the theater in Forest Meadows, San Rafael, where the Marin Shakespeare Festival will be held this summer have been announced by John Brebner, executive director of the festival.

Works of Marin craftsman will be displayed in the village, and strolling minstrels will entertain before performances of the plays.

During the season, July 20 to Sept. 28, three Shakespearean plays will be presented. They will be "Anthony and Cleopatra," "The Comedy of Errors," and "Macbeth."

Scholar Winners To Give Concert

Former Marin Music Chest scholarship winners will present a concert at 8:15 p.m. May 10 in Angelico Hall, Dominican College, San Rafael.

Among those who will be heard are Joan Franzini, Robert Borgmann and Paul Kent, pianists; John Tomlinson, flutist, and Marsha Lang, oboist.

The current Music Chest summer concert season subscription drive has been extended to May 15, Mrs. Carl Riznik, Music Chest president, said, and subscriptions may be obtained at county headquarters, 1133 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Choral Concert

College of Marin's 1968 Spring Choral Concert will be presented at 8 p.m. on May 5 in the Fine Arts Theater. The Collegiate Chorale and Madrigal Ensemble will be directed by Dr. S. Drummond Wolff, conductor and organist. Admission is free.

'West Side Story' Next For College

The first fullscale musical to be presented by College of Marin will be a production of "West Side Story," to be presented May 17-18 and 22-25 in the college theater.

Drama Chairman James Dunn says that it will be a "theatrical rather than romantic" production. A 21-piece orchestra will be conducted by Scott Merrick, music instructor.

Cast as Tony is Greg Norgaard of San Anselmo. Diana Gilbert of Forest Knolls will play his girl Graziella. Tony Roberts of San Anselmo will portray Bernardo, and Sylvia Hyde is cast as Maria.

MUSIC REVIEW

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

So brilliant were acoustics with the new shell tested for the first time in the College of Marin's fine arts theater last night that the community band directed by John H. Myers sounded like many more than 50 players.

A staggered sectional shell across the back of the stage and a ceiling baffle seemed to be the answer sought for making the theater more suitable for music, but a band is not really a good test because of its naturally powerful sonority. It will be very interesting to hear the results with other instrumental and choral ensembles.

Balance was not always perfect, particularly in the opening number, the Sousa march "A Century of Progress," in which the brasses overpowered the other choirs, but the shell is so new that there has hardly been time for the players and Myers to become accustomed to working with it.

As always in programs arranged by Myers, compositions were chosen with attention to providing variety and fresh appeal.

In the symphonic overteur "Flag of Stars" by Gordon Jacobs, intricate rhythms expertly handled and the work of a group of four cornets and two trumpets was outstanding.

Noteworthy in Handel's famed "Water Music" suite was some very good playing by principal oboist Michael Mitchell.

Balance was excellent in the "March of Belgian Paratroops" by P. Leemans, which closed the first half of the program. A march of Belgian paratroops it may have been, but the first part would have made an ideal Irish step dance.

In the prayer and dream pantomime from Humperdinck's opera "Hansel and Gretel," the harp for some reason could not be heard, althouth it was placed at the front of the stage. This was unfortunate because it would have added a great deal.

Colorful scoring using a wide variety of percussion instruments held attention in English dances by Malcolm Arnold, and the full, round tone of the low brasses was pleasing in the first movement of Borodin's second symphony. This was guest conducted very well by Harold Settlemier, a member of the band who played the tuba in the other numbers.

By far the most exciting work was "Mars, the Bringer of War" from Holst's "The Planets. Myers built a powerful feeling of ominous dread in his relentless driving rhythms of odd meters to a smashing climax.

Perfect for returning to a more comfortable state was Sousa's "Riders for the Flag" march, in which again balance was excellent, as it was in the exhilarating encore, the circus march, "His Honor" by Henry Fillmore. Much instrumental agility was required to play it at the fast clip Myers conducted.

Chamber Music

Chamber music concerts will be presented by the instrumental ensemble class at College of Marin on May 3 and 4, according to instructor Charles Meacham. Both concerts will be in Choral Hall (Room 72) Fine Arts Building, College of Marin, at 8:30 p.m. Admission is free.

Vandals Hit Red Hill School

Principal Donald Shaw today estimated the damage between $500 and $800.

San Anselmo police said witnesses reported one of the vandals was a 12-year-old San Anselmo girl, and that she was accompanied by a blond boy about her age. They said the pair climed onto the roof of a classroom building about 4:30 p.m. then broke out 21 skylight windows.

The two apparently lowered themselves through one of the broken windows into a classroom, officers said. They tore and scattered books in two classrooms, poured glue over the books and the floors, and tore two blinds, according to the report.

Police said they will question the girl and seek the identity of her companion today.

THE PENNEY STORY

"One eye on quality; one on price"

By ROBERTA NASH

More often than not, in a store's newspaper advertising, the emphasis is on the price of merchandise, for this is the news that readers want to know.

But the Penney people want to be sure you understand that this emphasis on price does not represent the thinking within the Penney organization. The thing that makes Penney wheels go .round is value, or what you get for that low price.

"We have to keep one eye on quality and the other on price," is the way one of our buyers put it.

Today is Monday, April 29, the 120th day of 1968 with 246 to go.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning star is Venus. The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1862 New Orleans, gateway to the Mississippi and once a Confederate stronghold, fell to Union forces.

In 1913 Gideon Sundback of Hoboken, N.J., was granted a patent for the present day "zipper."

In 1945 the body of Italian Dictator Mussolini, executed by partisans, was hanged in a public square in Milan.

In 1965 an earthquake in the Pacific northwest killed six persons and caused more than $12-million in damages.

A thought for the day: Samuel Johnson said, "Every man's affairs, however little, are important to himself."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE
By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Grand Slam Is Makeable Even With Trumps All in One Hand

A friend of mine recently decided to take up pinochle instead of bridge. The trouble was that he made this decision while he was in the middle of the play of today's hand.

TRUMP LEAD

West led a trump, and East's diamond discard at the first trick made it clear that West had more trumps than either the dummy or declarer. South studied the hand carefully and decided that he didn't have the faintest notion of how to play it.

"You have to get a trump trick," South finally announced to West. "I'm sure I can make the rest."

"It's a deal," West agreed. And he hastily mixed the cards together and entered the score before South had any second thoughts.

PLAY IS SIMPLE

Oddly enough, South might have made his grand slam if he had played the hand out instead of conceding a trick. Despite the 5-0 trump break South can make the slam by not trying to take more than three tricks in any side suit.

Declarer wins the first trick in dummy with the nine of spades and cashed the king and queen of diamonds, followed by the top hearts and the queen and king of clubs. South then leads the ace of clubs, intending to overruff in dummy if West ruffs.

RUFFS DIAMOND

West actually follows suit to the third club, and South has the pleasure of discarding dummy's ace of diamonds on his own ace of clubs. South then ruffs a diamond in dummy, ruffs a heart with the ace of trumps, ruffs a club in dummy and ruffs dummy's last heart with the jack of trumps.

Dummy's top trump wins the last trick, and South scores plus 2,210 instead of minus 100 points. That sounds better even to a pinochle player.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ None
♡ Q 10 8 7
♦ J 8 7 5 2
♣ J 9 8 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two hearts.

You count 4 points for high cards and 5 points for the void suit (when the hand contains good trump support for partner's suit). This is ample for a raise. If partner had opened with one spade, your void in spades would be a liability rather than an asset, and you would pass instead of responding.

Helping Business

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — As an experiment, Boulder has removed the heads from parking meters in most of the downtown area in favor of free two-hour parking, to see how it affects business. The tests are scheduled to run until summer.

Blue Chips Strengthen Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today as blue chip strength developed late in the day.

Gains outnumbered losses by around 200 issues, and the Dow Jones industrial average made a modest gain.

Strength in Du Pont, Standard Oil (New Jersey), Eastman Kodak, Montgomery Ward and some other key stock rescued the list from a hesitant start and put it safely into plus territory.

Prices near the close included:

Volume for the first four hours was 8.6 million shares compared with 9.3 million for the like period Friday.

A 2 point jump by Du Pont gave some beef to the averages. Also helpful were gains of a point or so by Standard Oil (New Jersey), Owens-Illinois and Montgomery Ward.

IBM jumped 9 points, Control Data about 4, U.S. Smelting nearly 3.

Syntex Dividend

PALO ALTO (BW) — Dr. George Rosenkranz, president of Syntex Corp., announced that the board of directors has declared a cash dividend of 10 cents per share on the outstanding common stock of the corporation payable on June 3 to stockholders of record at the close of business on May 10.

Ling-Temco-Vought Announces Dividend

DALLAS (BW) — Ling-Temco-Vought, Inc., will pay a second quarter cash dividend of 33⅓ cents per share on its common stock June 24 to shareholders of record June 5, the board of directors has announced.

It will be the fourth cash dividend payment in this amount and the 18th consecutive quarterly dividend payment on LTV's common stock.

Income Climbs

LOS ANGELES (BW)—Trans-Coast Investment Co., an $89,000,000 savings and loan holding company, has reported consolidated net earnings of $92,320 or 4 cents per share for compared with net earnings of $22,287 or 1 cent per share for the quarter ended March 31, as the similar period in 1967.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Grandfather Also Needs A Lawyer

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am a 77-year-old grandfather who wants to invest some savings set aside for my three grandsons aged 8, 12 and 14. I have in mind Jersey Standard, Southern Co., Skil and American Hospital Supply. Any changes in your opinion? How should I have the certificates made out, just in case I might require the use of this money for a temporary emergency of my own? Will you also please comment on my Tenneco stock, now below cost? — C. D.

A. You are fortunate in being able to provide for your grandsons' future needs and you have selected some good stocks. But unless you want the income from Southern Co., I would substitute for it one of the growth stocks from my column recommendations that could possibly do more for you. I think you should see your lawyer about the details of a plan that would both provide for your grandsons and also protect yourself.

Tenneco has been a slow mover for some months, but I would be inclined to hold on and not sell at a loss. It seems to have been unduly influenced by its earlier image of a federally regulated gas company. Actually Tenneco is a broad-based, well-managed energy company deriving less than half its revenues from government-regulated pipeline operations.

Q. Please recommend bonds paying about 6 per cent, partly exempt from federal income tax. I understand such bonds are issued and should be about AA grade — R. C.

A. The bonds you have in mind, issued by states, municipalities and sundry authorities under their jurisdiction, provide income fully exempt from federal income tax. Since their yield to an investor depends on his tax bracket, I can only advise you that they are best suited to persons in the higher brackets. If you are one of these, you might consider State of Maryland 2⅞s of 1976-77 and 3.70 of 1981. Both are rated triple A and are currently quoted under par.

A Backstage Peek At Beauty Contest

By JOAN LISETOR

Betty June Covington was crowned Miss KTIM-Marin Friday night in Olney Hall at the College of Marin, but eight girls earned the coveted Miss Congeniality award although it is only given in national beauty contests.

Backstage before, during and even after the pageant, an aura of sisterly love prevailed. When women compete, expect biting and clawing, but in the backstage dressing room at the Miss KTIM-Marin pageant, eight earnest rivals lent each other a helping hand.

The conversation preceding the contest was mixed with nervous giggles. One of the girls announced she had dreamed the night before that she wouldn't be able to get her gloves on. And it seemed that every one had forgotten something: perfume, gloves, a cameo necklace and the right lipstick.

Each girl helped another into her formal for the first portion of the contest. Questions flew. "Why isn't there a full-length mirror?" "Why do I have to be the first one out there?" "Is my lipstick dark enough?" "What should I do with my hands?" "What time is it?"

Being backstage, one had the feeling the girls had known one another for years, but Carolyn Beach, beauty pageant director, said, "It's like this every year. The girls meet only once before the pageant at the rehearsal the night before, and on the big night it's as if they were old friends."

The girls expressed a concern for the judges, wondering if they too were nervous. The choice of Miss KTIM-Marin, who could possibly become Miss Universe, was in the hands of Beverly Blane, a Hollywood charm school instructor; Sheriff of Marin County Louis Mountanos, and San Rafael commercial photographer Ken Molino.

Miss Marin of 1967, Patricia Twohill, was in the dressing room advising the girls. It was difficult to believe that just one year ago she was back stage, nervous, tense and awaiting the big moment. Now a poised young lady, she busily helped the girls like a "mother hen."

At last Mrs. Beach announced it was 7:30 and the festivities would begin. The girls lined up for last-minute briefing instruction and words of encouragement from the pageant director. She told them all how lovely they were, and the music began.

The girls were escorted to the stage by young lieutenants from Hamilton Air Force Base. They smiled their most radiant smiles, and it was impossible to believe they were the same girls as the ones backstage.

Master of ceremonies Hugh Turner asked them questions, and they answered with ease. They appeared in bathing suits in a relaxed, almost poolside manner. Onstage, they were transformed into gracious young ladies.

After the announcement was made and the winner was crowned, many of the girls lingered in the auditorium, not wanting to say good-bye to newfound friends, exchanging phone numbers and making plans to see one another again.

Father-Daughter Police Team In Texas

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—The fact that there are two persons from the Griffith family on the Fort Worth police force is no real problem. After all, many police forces have father-and-son combinations.

But a father and daughter combination is another thing.

Marilyn Mitchell was about at the stage, as mother of three children, of thinking she would get a job again. Her mother, Mrs. J.D. Griffith, mentioned a newspaper advertisement about police jobs. Her father went along too—he is a Fort Worth police detective.

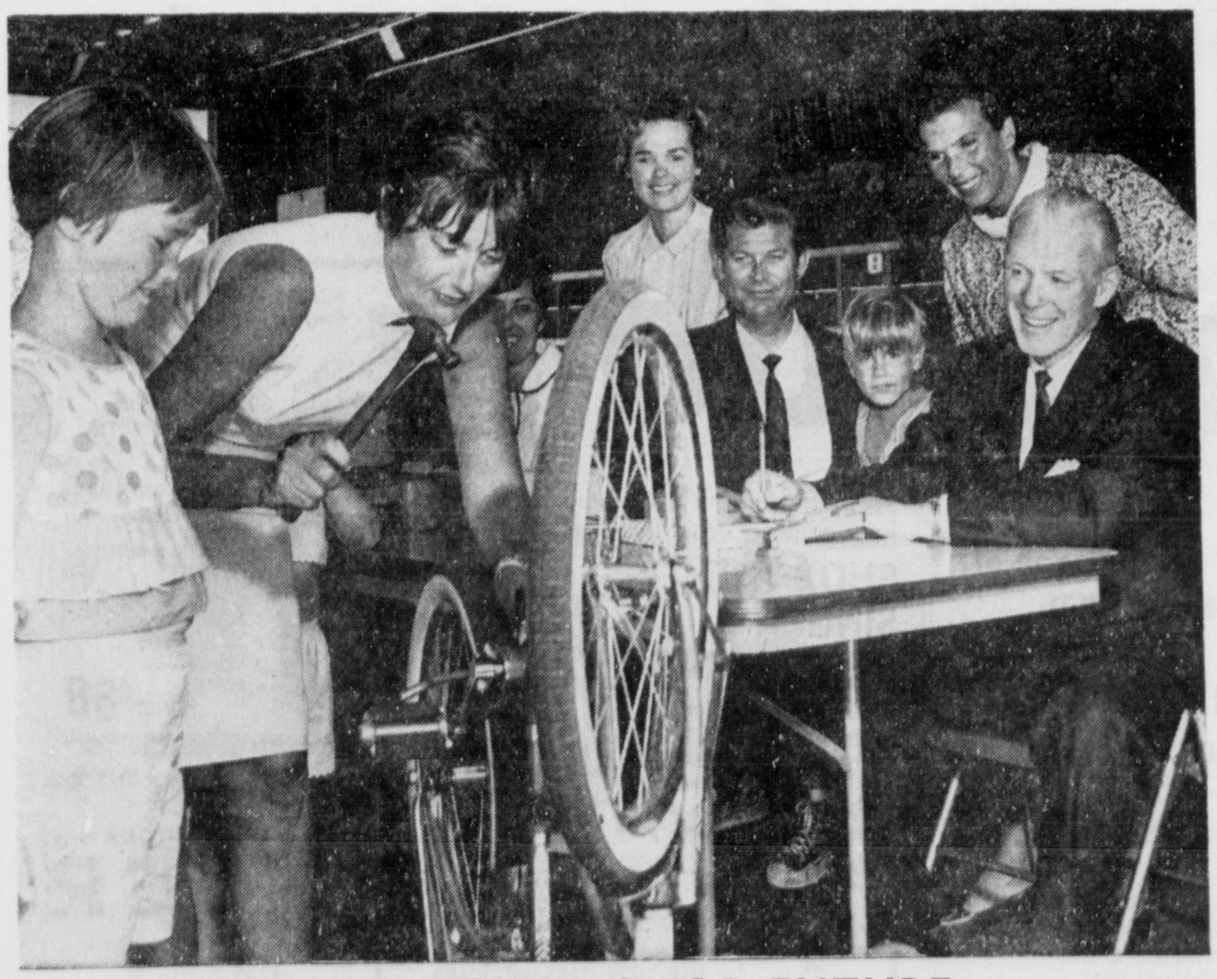
Mrs. Mitchell took her parents' suggestion as sort of a joke, but applied anyway and was accepted as a trainee. Now, she has passed the training program and is a matron in the city jail women's section. Griffith is 59 and a veteran of many years with the force. His daughter is 32.

Mrs. Mitchell, a divorcee, said the job is not really that out of the question for a housewife.

"I am sort of gregarious. I have always been interested in psychology and I think I am pretty compassionate," Mrs. Mitchell said.

And her youngsters, aged six, 10, and 12, took the fact in stride that their mother is a cop.

Once when it came time for the show-and-tell session at the school, the six-year-old, Stuart, took along his mother's handcuffs to display at class.



TAGGING BIKES FOR FUTURE

Medical History Is Her Field

By BETTY FROST

Trying to find historic connection with modern medicine is the unusual field of Dr. Ilza Veith, professor and vice chairman of the Department of the History of Health Sciences at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

The professor, who lives in Tiburon, has been named chairman of the newly created research committee on the history of neurology. She will be in London this week to conduct planning sessions on that subject at the World Federation of Neurology, located in England.

Enthusiastic about her field, Dr. Veith finds it valuable "because we can see how far we have gone, and that some elements are rediscovered." Along these lines, she has an article published in a current medical magazine on "Historical Reflections on Organ Transplants."

The idea of heart transplants, heralded as a first in medical history recently, was recorded in China in the third century A.D. Hua T'o, physician-surgeon of Chinese notables, born around 190 A.D., is said to have performed a heart transplant, although records are too sketchy to include the outcome of the operation. Since the Chinese at that time believed the heart to be not only the central organ of the human body but the seat of the mind and soul as well, Hua T'o's transplant attempt was particularly daring.

The capable brown-eyed woman, is a native of Germany, and grew up near Heidelberg. She studied medicine at the University of Geneva and the University of Vienna. In 1937 she and her husband, Hans von Valentini Veith, came to this country. They lived in Baltimore, where Ilza took her Ph.D. Degree in the history of medicine at Johns Hopkins University. She was the first to receive this particular degree in the United States and is one of six professors of medical history in the United States. The week before her departure for the London conferences, she had attended the annual meeting of the American Association for the History of Medicine in St. Louis, Mo.

AN AUTHORITY on the history of medicine, Dr. Ilza Veith of Tiburon will leave today for London to conduct planning sessions on the history of neurology for the World Federation of Neurology. It's a valuable field, Dr. Veith says, "because we can see how far we've gone" in medicine.

IN 1964 SHE accepted the post at the University of California. One of the factors which drew her to the University was "the superb medical and historical library." Dr. Veith is the author of seven books and more than a hundred articles on medical history. "Hysteria, the History of a Disease," published in 1965 "was my dowry to the University of California," she said. "The Yellow Emperor's Classic of Internal Medicine," the oldest known Chinese medical work, she translated from the Chinese. She learned both Chinese and Japanese in Geneva, which was then the location of the League of Nations, during the time she was studying at the university in the Swiss city.

Her skill in the Oriental languages has led to a specialty in the medical history of the Far East. Some drugs, rediscovered by the Western world, have long been known in the Orient. Professor Veith cites Rauwolfia, ephedrine and chaulmoogra oil. "Narcotics, too, are old, with Indian hemp and heroin among the oldest," she related. "Men have always looked for escape from themselves and their worries. They have sought Nirvana through drugs. Drugs were also used to deaden pain during illness or surgery before the development of anesthesia. But, anything that is addictive or habit forming is bad," she warns, "It causes you to lose mastery of yourself."

Her work is her hobby, the professor says. A pioneer in her area of expertise, she finds much gratification in her work. "It is like being paid for one's holiday," she explained. She does a great deal of her writing in her home on the Tiburon hillside with a superb view of San Francisco and the Bay. She has an unusually good library in her home and there are even bookshelves in the spacious kitchen.

Her husband, a native of Goettingen, Germany, studied law at the University of Goettingen, where he received his doctorate in law. Now retired, he was manager of the University of Chicago Press for a number of years. He served as liaison between the American and German legal staffs during the Nuremberg trials, where his skill in both languages and training in German law were utilized. Now, he assists his wife in her demanding career, and supervises the maintenance of the three-quarter-acre grounds at the Tiburon home, which is landscaped in the Japanese manner. Completing the household is Wenzel, a friendly wire-haired dachshund.

Divorce Advice Prompts Letters Of Bouquets And Some Brickbats

DEAR HELEN:

Can we believe it? An advice consultant actually intimating that when two people aren't suited — and one finds the right mate — a divorce and remarriage could be the answer. Congratulations! You've finally brought your type of column into the 20th century. We've sensed for sometime you were a different breed than the other gals who play it safe — and Victorian.

"C.F." described her mismatched life and told of a growing love between herself and a man who could make a warm and wonderful home for her and the children. You didn't backhand her with a quip, in the popular lovelornist fashion. Instead, you recognized that all human problems are different and rigid morality can't always apply. You said, "face this thing honestly," implying that she might discover a change of partners would benefit everyone.

You will no doubt be verbally stoned for writing in an advice column what this generation knows is true: "You don't do anyone in the family a favor when you live with a mate you can't love." (Note From H: You're so-o-o-o right!)

But we want you to know that many of us call you the columnist who dares say what she thinks, not what Mrs. Grundy dictates.

Thank you for bringing advice up to date. — MR. AND MRS. T. C.

DEAR HELEN:

How dare you condone divorce! Don't you know marriage vows are sacred? If a woman thinks she made a wrong choice, it's her duty to live with it. Think of the children! — SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED:

I did — and that's one of the reasons I suggested honest consideration of divorce, rather than blind obedience to marriage vows that mean nothing more than legal sex.

My stand is only surprising because it came from an advice columnist. Somehow the public expects us to dish out rigid, unreasoning morality while the rest of the world switches to situation ethics, human evaluation mixed with common sense. It's high time we shed the crinoline.

From now on you can expect more and more straight talk from me. I've broken out of the mold, and it's great, being free!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Our son is in the service. He ran up a lot of bills before he left, and we expected him to pay for them with his army checks. Instead, he's sending all his checks to his fiance.

We don't know what she is doing with the money, though he says she's saving it for their marriage.

We're getting dunned for his bills. He even charges his phone calls to her on our bill. His car isn't paid for. He bought a suit on our account. He still owes us for it.

I don't want to make trouble, but we can't afford all these bills. What should we do? — DUNNED PARENTS

DEAR DUNNED:

Send your son an itemized account of all money owed, and tell him the bills must be paid or you will turn them over to his girls' parents.

If a fellow is old enough for marriage, he should be old enough to assume financial responsibility. Start teaching him!—H.

Peasant Fabrics

Peasant fabrics for fall and winter feature primary colors, simplicity in design, folklore patterns. Indian, Scandinavian, Mexican embroideries among the peasant cloths feature classic weaves with a more primitive, more forthright, more direct approach to design.

New Fabrics

Pure cotton takes a stellar role in depicting the shape and softness of fashion's new silhouettes. Dimensional fabrics —like diagonal cotton twills, sculptured cotton cloques and piques, and rich-textured jacquards—lend fresh interest to the spring ensemble, the National Cotton Council reports.

McIsaac-Klapperich Nuptials

Our Lady of Loretto Church in Novato was the setting for the wedding of Denise Clare Klapperich and Neil Kenneth McIsaac Jr., both of Novato, on April 20.

Mrs. Tony Dent of Novato was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Susan and Sandra McIsaac of San Francisco, sisters of the bridegroom and Dee Dee Colella of Novato.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Klapperich of Novato are the bride's parents.

Best man for the bridegroom was Kerrick Anderson of Novato. Ushers were Kelly and James McIsaac of Novato, brothers of the bridegroom, James Simontacchi of Vandenburg Air Force Base, Richard Mellor of Novato and Donald Klapperich, brother of the bride, a navy pilot stationed at Miramar Naval Station in San Diego.

Following a reception at Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera, the couple went on a wedding trip to Carmel. They will reside in Oxnard.

The bride was graduated from Novato High School. She was employed with Factory Mutual in Terra Linda before her marriage. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Alma Fabbri of Sonoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil McIsaac Sr. of Novato are the bridegroom's parents. He is also the brother of Diane McIsaac of San Francisco and Eric McIsaac of Novato. He is the grandson of Mrs. Charles Dolcini of Petaluma and Mrs. Donald D. McIsaac of Olema.

He was graduated from Novato High School and attended College of Marin for three years. He is serving with the United States Navy Construction Battalion in Port Hueneme.

Scholarships Given To Three Seniors

ADELA ALDEGUER

LESLIE SHERMAN

SUSAN TONG

The scholarship committee of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Marin County has selected scholarship winners for 1968. Each year the club awards two scholarships of $200 each honoring Alice Brewer Wells, a charter member of the club, and with the addition of the Margaret Keaton Scholarship, established by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keaton in memory of his mother, who was a charter member, the club now awards three scholarships.

This year the Alice Brewer Wells scholarship awards went to Susan Tong of Fairfax, a senior at Sir Francis Drake High School, who plans to enter University of California.

Adela L. Aldeguer of Mill Valley, who received the second scholarship award, will be graduated from Tamalpais High School and will enter Mills College.

The Margaret Keaton scholarship award went to Leslie Marie Sherman of Novato, who will be graduated from the Novato High School and plans to enter University of California at Santa Barbara.

Expedition On Foot

Cars, cars everywhere — no wonder we sometimes overlook the simple pleasure of walking! Combine the two. It's not a very complicated idea. All you do is to drive to a scenic area — and then explore it on foot.

Ramble through a wildlife refuge, a wilderness preserve, a stand of virgin woods. Stroll around a quiet lake or country village. Bring a picnic lunch, look at the trees and flowers, skip stones over the water with the children, feed squirrels and ducks. For the afternoon, at least, join the foot brigade!

Prepare First

Spring paintup? Remove loose paint from the house exterior before starting a new coat. New paint will not adhere to a poorly prepared surface.

Miss Guiney Is Wed In Petaluma

Nuptials April 20 at St. Vincent de Paul church in Petaluma united in marriage Sharon Marie Guiney and Donald Anthony Bordessa of Valley Ford.

Sharon, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willian E. Guiney of Point Reyes Station, was attended by Alfrieda Grossi, maid of honor, and Kris Eckenroad and Elvera Bordessa, the bridegroom's sister.

Alan Albini served as best man and ushering guests were Dan Evans and Dennis Henning.

Both Sharon and Donald are graduates of Tomales Joint Union High School. She has been employed with the National Park Service and the Bureau of Public Roads. Her husband is employed with an auto electric company in Santa Rosa. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Bordessa of Valley Ford.

The couple will make their home in Valley Ford.

MEDICAL HISTORIAN

attend the medical history lectures which Dr. Veith gives at the University, where she is also a professor in the Department of Psychiatry, but students of philosophy, history, divinity and those interested in other aspects of the biological sciences. Her books and other publications, too, are read, she says, "by interested and intelligent laymen as well as physicians and medical students."

The courage which upheld her in pioneering in her profession has also sustained this Marin woman during a long illness. Shortly after coming to California four years ago she suffered a paralytic stroke which affected the use of one arm and leg.

"I thought nothing worse could ever happen to me," she said. But she began a program of therapy, and is now able to get around with the use of a cane, and to continue her professional activities. "On the fourth anniversary of my stroke, I accepted an invitation to lecture to the neurologists at Letterman Hospital," Dr. Veith said. "I felt it was a real milestone."

Today she leaves for London to take a leading role in the formation of an international committee for research on the history of neurology.

Stains On Tie

Remove food stains from men's silk ties by adding a little lemon juice to a regular spot remove. The method will keep the tie from fading. The fluid, however, should be tested on the back of a tie first. An emergency spot treatment when dining out is to use plain soda water on the spot unless its caused by grease. The tips come from the University of Nebraska Extension Service.

ON THE AGENDA

Holy Family Guild Luncheon To Feature Entertainment, Prizes

Holy Family Guild of Marin is holding its spring luncheon at St. Sebastian's parish hall in Greenbrae at noon on Thursday to benefit the Holy Family Novitiate in Mission San Jose. Following the luncheon soprano Melodee Morrison of

MELODEE MORRISON

San Francisco will entertain for guests. She started her career as a member of the Children's Opera in San Francisco and has appeared in Actors' Workshop Productions, also at Sheraton's Palace Hotel in San Francisco with Van Johnson in "Bye Bye Birdie" and had the lead role of "Lady Larkin" in "Once Upon a Mattress" in "Little Theatre 5" Group. Miss Morrison toured Europe last summer with the "Star Track" Group.

An added feature will be prizes given by secret judges for the most attractive Easter bonnets worn to the lunch.

Mrs. George Pavlisin of Mill Valley, president, and Mrs. Stanley Lawrence of Greenbrae, vice president, will head the committee, assisted by Mesdames Alfred Ruggiero, Mrs. L. E. Schwab, J. A. Reilly, Kenneth Larkins, Harold Bates, Genevieve Sheppard, Elsa McCarthy, Alfreda Rowe, Nora Thelen, Nell Gallagher, Iona Boro, Frances Maggi, Dolores Sutton and Dare Morgan. Reservations chairmen are Mrs. Walter Garrett, 138 Altura Way, Greenbrae, and Mrs. Herbert Neal, 239 Harvard Drive, Larkspur.

"WOMAN TO WOMAN: Build the Earth" will be the program presented by the Marin Forum on Friday at a luncheon at Sabella's Restaurant in Mill Valley. Started last fall on the Peninsula, the Woman to Woman program has spread throughout the Bay Area and to Sacramento and Bakersfield, now including some 2,000 members. The Marin group was organized April 1, under the guidance of Mrs. Bruce Weber and Mrs. Dan Dippery of Corte Madera, who were among the 100 original members.

The film presentation and talk by Mrs. Weber and Mrs. Barbara Nagai of Berkeley will describe the program's objectives to educate women to extend their concern beyond their homes to the community, nation and world. The first project of the group is support for national service, a plan to provide youth with a choice of ways to serve the country beyond military service.

The public program will begin with luncheon at noon. Mrs. Louis G. Harding of Mill Valley is program chairman for Marin Forum, and Mrs. Arthur L. Sell of San Anselmo and Barbara J. Hosmer of Greenbrae are reservations chairmen.

A FASHION show with members modeling will be held Friday by the Tamalpais Centre Women's Club at the clubhouse in Kentfield beginning at 2 p.m. Models will be Mesdames Roland Becsey, Thomas Nichols, A. M. Komora, W. C. Dunn, Thomas Cusick, William Newlon, Ernest Carr, A. W. Storm, Dave Resnick, Clyde Young, Ruth M. Krough and Ralph Holchester. Mrs. Elmer Jones will play piano accompaniment.

Mrs. Oscar Olson is chairman, assisted by Mesdames Sebastian Cimino, Clarence Herkner, Henry Holzberg and Wesley Swadley.

A board meeting will be held at 11 a.m. and a business meeting at 1 p.m.

WHEN THE second annual public Garden Fair is given Wednesday at the Hall of Flowers in Golden Gate Park by the Auxiliary of Edgewood, several groups of Marinites will be on hand. Auxiliary members from Marin include Mesdames Paul W. Erickson and Matthew B. McGowan of San Rafael; Donald Cottle of Mill Valley and Robert Redfield of Ross. Mrs. Daniel Boyd of Ross is a sponsor of the auxiliary. The event will continue from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

A TOUR OF the Garden Fair is planned by Novato Garden Club members. Mrs. Lawrason Driscoll is tour chairman. Novato Garden Club members and their guests will leave the Community House in Novato by chartered bus at 9 a.m. A lunch is planned at Ghirardelli Square in San Francisco. Mrs. Driscoll is reservations chairman.

MARIN MEMBERS who will attend the national convention of Kiwi Clubs (former airline stewardesses) in San Francisco at the Hilton Hotel Wednesday are Mesdames Paul Clancy, William McGovern, Donald DeLong, William Meyers, all of San Rafael, and Mrs. Edward McFetridge of Tiburon. Mrs. McGovern is Marin reservations chairman. The three-day gathering will include representatives from 59 chapters.

A STUDENT BOOK fair, sponsored by the Coleman School Parent-Teacher Association, will be held in the primary wing of the San Rafael school Wednesday through Friday.

The new books, including paperbacks and hard covers, will cover a wide variety of subjects.

The books will be on display at the school from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. each sale day. Purchase orders will be accepted by representatives of the P-TA and delivery is anticipated within a month after the sale. Proceeds will be used to support the school library.

THE UNITARIAN-Universalist Church of Marin is holding its annual rummage sale on Friday at 7:30 to 10 p.m. and Saturday 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

PAMELA NELSON

Pamela Nelson Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Nelson Jr. of Mill Valley announce the engagement of their daughter, Pamela Sue Nelson, to Sp 4/c Gary Fred Rittenhouse.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orley Rittenhouse of Pullman Wash., and is a Vietnam veteran stationed with the U.S. Army at Fort Carson in Colorado.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Sunnyside High School in Sunnyside, Wash., and she is in her senior year at Washington State University majoring in bacteriology.

She is the sister of Thomas Nelson III and James Nelson of Mill Valley and the granddaughter of T. C. Nelson of El Cerrito and the late Helen M. Nelson of Mill Valley.

The future bridegroom was graduated from Pullman High School and Washington State University.

The couple will be married Aug. 24 at the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley.

Mini-Pouf

The mini-pouf half slip is a tiny flirtatious bit of feminine frippery to wear under short, swingy skirts. Made of cotton, layered tricot, dotted Swiss or nylon taffeta, they have lace and ruffle trimming.

Storing Poultry

Fresh poultry can be stored six to eight months with little change in flavor, texture, color and nutrition if frozen properly. Experts advise though that poultry be purchased already frozen instead of processed at home. The food processor usually is better equipped to freeze and package the meat to keep air and moisture out.

Stripes Are In

Sew a lively cotton stripe for spring. Make it doubly effective in look-alike fashions for you and your daughter. Run stripes on the vertical for your outfit, on the horizontal for hers. Pick stripes, fat or thin, bright or pale. You will find them all in washable cotton fabrics that will stay fresh and colorful all summer long.

Ambulance Service Due Second Study

Emergency ambulance service in Central and Southern Marin will come up for another round of discussion before the Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow morning.

Higher rates for emergency ambulance service in North Marin were approved last week, but similar raises for service in the central and southern areas were held up, pending an agreement between United Ambulance and Doctors Ambulance as to which would serve where.

The Marin County Economic Opportunity Council will ask for an evening hearing on the 1967 amendments (Green Amendments) to the Federal Economic Opportunity Act. The hearing is now set for 3 p.m. May 7. The Marin EOC will also ask the supervisors to consider funds for the group services program, a program to aid unwed mothers.

At 10:45 a.m. supervisors are scheduled to pass a resolution for equal justice, opportunity and peace. The resolution is a supplement to last week's resolution on Vietnam, asking President Johnson to "persevere with patience" in negotiations for peace and to use the money to fight poverty and prejudice in America.

A letter from the municipal court judges expresses concern that the tax rate freeze may shortchange the furnishings for judges' chambers and anterooms in the new Hall of Justice.

The director of public social services will ask for endorsement of a single standard of public assistance in adult categories and greater state participation in the aid to families with dependent children.

Russian Seaman Is Hospitalized

An injured seaman, taken off of a Russian fishing ship in Drake's Bay Friday, was reported in good condition today at the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital in San Francisco.

The seaman, Poliev Semen, suffering a broken nose and other injuries, was transferred to the Coast Guard cutter Fort Winslow after it met two Russian vessels, the Tixhwin and the Revolutshioner. The ships then returned to international waters.

The Russians had originally asked permission to enter the bay to transfer two men from one ship to the other for treatment by a doctor. But after stopping in the bay it was decided Semen needed hospitalization. Details of how the men were injured were not given.

WE SEW SEATS

Car seats. With split seams.

For example . . . the little VW is a mighty fine car. It's put together by strong mechanics. They have contests to see who can tighten the bolts best. They never come apart. Except at the seams. We sew them up. With dacron thread. And they never come apart! (Sam, incidentally, pioneered the use of dacron thread in the automotive field in Marin. Just one of our many firsts.)

We sew seams for Fords, Chevs, and Plymouths, TRs, MGAs, and Alfas. And many more, too. We also install seat covers, auto glass and convertible tops, carpets, headrests and armrests. And many more.

Stop in today and show us your seam problem. Or glass breakage.

We'll be happy to see you!

Insanity Ruling In Knifing Case

Neils Hyrum Hansen, accused of assaulting two San Anselmo bar patrons with a knife March 10, was ruled insane and ordered to Atascadero State Hospital Friday by Superior Court Judge Thomas F. Keating.

$4 Million 'Saving' In Tax Switch

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Marin County property taxpayers would save more than $4 million a year in property taxes if the state were to take over support of junior colleges, the California Taxpayers' Association said yesterday.

The association did not indicate how the state would finance the junior colleges, but it generally is conceded the funds would come from increased income taxes from the same property taxpayers expecting relief if the state took over the junior colleges.

During the current fiscal year, the association reported, Marin property taxpayers paid $4,154,138 for junior colleges in Marin and Sonoma counties.

A bill to shift the support of junior colleges to the state now is before the Legislature. The bill (SB 944), by Sen. Ralph C. Dills, D-San Pedro, would cost the state $245 million, the taxpayers' association estimated. A similar bill died in the Legislature last year.

Homeowners Back Strong Leash Law

The San Marin Homeowners Improvement Association favors a stricter dog leash law for the City of Novato, according to Mrs. Jerry H. Shobar, secretary.

A vote on the matter was taken at the quarterly membership meeting held Thursday in the San Marin Club.

The club accepted the offer of $500 from the Novato Civic Foundation for turf and trees to be planted and maintained by the club at the new San Ramon Elementary School site, Mrs. Shobar said.

The club agreed to ask the Boy Scouts to deliver the club's monthly news letter to homes, she said.

Math Workshop

The Marin County Mathematics Council and the county schools office will cosponsor a workshop for mathematics teachers in Marin elementary and secondary schools from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday at Dominican College, San Rafael. The workshop will be conducted by consultants for a publishing firm.

Advanced First Aid Class Set

An advanced first aid course will be given by the Marin County Chapter of the American Red Cross beginning at 7 p.m. tomorrow at the Terra Linda Fire Station.

Fire Chief George Walser will instruct the class, to be held Tuesdays and Thursdays for three weeks.

Applicants, who must be at least 15 years old and have a current standard first aid card, may register at the Red Cross chapter house, 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

Novato Rec Advisors To Meet Hour Earlier

The Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission will meet at 7 p.m. today, not at 8 p.m., as originally scheduled, in order to secure a quorum.

The special meeting, in the community house, was called to discuss a request for funds for park planning, but consideration of an agreement to allow the parks and recreation department to use school buses for programs also will be taken up, Edward W. Adams, park and recreation director, announced.

LOSING THE BATTLE?

Stronger Poverty Front Urged

By ANNE BARDWELL

Affluent Marin County is not winning its War on Poverty, a panel of 10 concerned citizens readily agreed Saturday at a public forum sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Central Marin.

However, the panel found itself less able to agree on why the war is failing and what steps must be taken to make it successful.

More money, more control by the poor and less administrative red tape were three interlocking solutions offered by several of the panelists.

"All of our good programs have been cut out or cut back," Arthur L. Brown, chairman of the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council — the local organization established to design and administer antipoverty programs — told the audience of 100 at the College of Marin.

Brown cited the Headstart program as one which is being cut back for lack of federal money when, instead, it should be expanded.

Other excellent programs which have been discontinued, again for lack of federal money, are the Marin City Study Center and the unwed mothers education program, both locally developed programs, Brown said.

The cutback in Headstart is regrettable, said Thomas H. Crawford, field representative for the Western Regional Office of Economic Opportunity, but he added all Headstart programs are suffering the same fate because of Congressional belt tightening.

Crawford laid Marin's failure at the door of the Economic Opportunity Council. "The EOC is a sham because it is not dominated by the poor of this county. It lacks the youth of Marin City, the poor of San Rafael and egsewhere," he said.

Federal regulations prohibit the poor from making up a majority of the council, Brown said.

"If it's a poor people's program, why not let the poor control it?" asked Gregory Baines, spokesman for the youth of Marin City.

Baines said he and others in Marin City are organizing programs to develop black businesses in Marin City and to find blacks jobs "they are basically interested in doing."

"We've got a program but we haven't got the money. You should write out a check and give it to the cat with the program, who needs it," Baines said.

He added that the EOC should set up programs which can be run by the people in the community. "We don't need a man — even a black man — with a PhD to come in and tell us what we need."

"Blacks don't run things for the whites, why should the whites go into the black community to run things?" Baines asked.

David S. Dietz, assistant city editor of the Independent-Journal, predicted that the War on Poverty program would be phased out with the successful programs, such as Headstart, absorbed by other federal departments.

The Office of Economic Opportunity "has functioned very badly," Dietz said. "The money is lost in the administrative costs . . . not enough gets to the people."

The War on Poverty has antagonized the poor, Dietz added, because "it takes too long to get money for programs, it isn't enough money, and the money has too many restrictions."

Brown said the administrative problem basically stems from "I-ism. Everyone wants to retain control of his own little area, no one wants to coordinate for fear of giving up some power," he said.

Ernest N. Kettenhofen, chairman of the board of supervisors said the county "must search further" for solutions to the problem.

He called for more jobs for the poor and for poor people "who are willing to do a day's work for a day's wages."

The manpower programs in this county are not getting off the ground because of "too many cooks," Kettenhofen said.

He said many of the EOC's problems would be solved if the federal government would designate funds in "block grants" instead of program grants.

Block grants, he explained, are much more flexible since they are not tied to the restrictions of a particular program.

"You ask what you can do — you can write to your Congressman and lobby for the block grant," Kettenhofen told the audience.

Baines said those who want to help can provide jobs for the unemployed blacks and give money to blacks organizing programs.

Kettenhofen objected that the War on Poverty is for all the poor, not just the poor of Marin City.

Nothing that Marin City is the only Marin County community established as a "target area," Baines said, "I want money for the poor community. Whether it is black or white depends upon the community. It just happens that Marin City is mostly black."

Brown added that the EOC has not been able to identify the non-black poor of Marin. "Maybe its a matter of pride . . . they don't want to say they're poor." He noted that there are 1,778 families on welfare throughout the county compared to 120 welfare families in Marin City.

"If I can help the poor white people, groovy, but not before the blacks," he said.

The poor whites should have an opportunity to direct their own program," Baines added.

The War on Poverty should not be turned over to the welfare department, Elizabeth J. Coyle, program deputy for the county's Department of Public Social Services, said.

"Social work has always been palliative in substance and kind . . . its purpose is to prevent revolution. Our programs have never been designed to get at the substance of poverty, its causes and roots," she said.

"The poor do have things better than before, but having said that, I've said it all," Miss Coyle added.

However, the War on Poverty can be won, she said, "if we, as Norman Thomas once said, fight it like we fought World War II."

Others participating in the program were Daniel H. Chavez, district director for the Department of Labor; Robert Maher, coordinator of the Tamalpais High School District's work experience program; Troy E. Lewis, manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company; and Mrs. H. B. Hennessy of Fairfax.

Carrozzi's Land Offer Due Study

Anthony Carrozzi, who owns 21 acres of scenic land just south of the entrance to Muir Woods National Monument, has agreed to sell 18 acres for use as a public park for $85,000.

An agreement for sale of the property will come before the Marin County Board of Supervisors for approval tomorrow morning.

The sale, however, cannot be consummated until $42,500 in open space funds has been approved by the federal government. A final determination on the open space funds is not expected for about four months, said County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney.

If the $42,500 is approved by the federal government, the remaining $42,500 will be shared equally by the County of Marin, Sierra Club, Tamalpais Conservation Club and the State of California.

In addition to the sale, Carrozzi has agreed to donate the three additional acres which he owns to the county, subject to his right to lease them for 70 years, after which they, too, will become public property.

Tiburon Man Hurt In Wreck

A Tiburon man was injured yesterday when his car went over a 30-foot embankment and landed in a ditch at 5 a.m.

The accident happened on the off-ramp to Tiburon Boulevard from northbound Highway 101, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Fredric M. Parke, 49, of 444 Greenwood Beach Road, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with multiple face cuts and a possible head injury.

LBJ 'Inaction' Cited In Economic Crisis

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, seeking a fourth term in the U.S. Senate, today charged that the Johnson Administration's "inaction and lack of firm leadership are pushing us down a frightening path of mounting danger to the dollar."

Kuchel, assistant GOP leader in the upper house, spoke at the San Rafael Rotary Club's weekly luncheon in the West End Villa.

The veteran Republican legislator also declared that the president's policies are leading the U.S. "to a self-defeating policy of economic isolation."

He urged swift passage by the House of Representatives of a 10 per cent surcharge on income taxes, which the Senate has coupled with a mandatory cut of $6 billion in spending. "The President cannot apparently obtain the requisite cooperation from his party in the House," said Kuchel.

He noted that the Senate, "with my Republican colleagues and me in the lead," voted for both the surcharge and spending cut.

Citing "a crisis of leadership in this nation today," Kuchel said the Administration has failed "to move decisively to restore confidence in the American dollar. It hurts at home, and it is ruining us abroad, too," Kuchel said.

"Our friends in the European Common Market are willing to help us by speedily reducing some tariffs to help American exports, and thus slow our gold drain," said Kuchel, but they won't do it as long as the House fails to pass the usrcharge and spending cut.

"They ask why small countries should work to help a large nation which cannot help itself," he said.

Kuchel also criticized "fearful interests" in the U.S. which "talk of indiscriminately slapping protectionists quotas and tariffs on incoming goods — a move which would invite immediate retaliation from our friends and bring on the hazard of unemployment in American industries which sell abroad."

Kuchel was introduced by David Winslow of Tiburon, Marin County chairman of the Citizens Committee to Re-Elect Sen. Tom Kuchel.

Innocent Pleas By Litterals

Robert Dale Litteral, 20, denied that he induced a 16-year-old runaway girl to use the dangerous drug, methedrine.

Jury trial for the two, arrested at their home March 25, was scheduled for June 17 in Superior Court.

The brothers were arrested after the girl told police that Robert Litteral injected methedrine into her veins. Officers said they found marijuana and methedrine in the Litteral home at 812 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The preliminary hearing on the charges was closed to the public in the courtroom of Judge Peter Allen Smith of Municipal Court. The hearing was made secret on the demand of Robert Litteral's attorney.

Judge Peter Allen Smith, on conclusion of the hearing, ordered that the transcript of testimony before him be sealed until after the brothers' jury trial.

Man Arrested In Dog Theft

A 53-year-old San Rafael man, who brought a dog to be checked into Marin County Humane Society in San Rafael last night, was promptly arrested by police who were there investigating a break-in. The dog had allegedly been stolen from society kennels a few minutes earlier.

Booked on suspicion of burglary at society headquarters at 402 Third Street was William Arthur Alexander of 43a Pacheco Street.

Police said a window had been broken and all lights in the building had been switched on. Apart from the animal, no other property had been stolen, according to police.

Alexander was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

One Day That Many Can Recall With Pride

Largely ignored by newspapers hereabouts (including this one) was an event in New York just over a week ago which seemed especially heartening in this time of racial violence and city decay. The New York Times of Sunday, April 21, devoted nearly two pages to it.

What happened was described by Martin Arnold in his lead story in the Times as follows:

"SEVERAL THOUSAND people from such suburbs as Greenwich, Conn., and Huntington. L.I., turned out yesterday to clean up and help renovate nearly 50 slum blocks in Manhattan and the South Bronx.

"They came early in the morning by station wagon and automobile and train — men and women and little children with their teen-age brothers and sisters, college students and nuns — to work with the slum dwellers in sweeping streets, hauling rubbish from rat-infested basements, painting, and cementing up cracks and holes in sidewalks and building fronts. Except for moments snatched to drink a beer or a soda pop and eat a sandwich or an apple brought from home, they worked until about 6 p.m. Then many of them sat down on sidewalk curbs or stood around wooden tables set up in the streets to eat suppers of fried chicken, hot dogs and cole slaw provided by the slum residents. . . ."

THE CLEANUP of some of New York's ugliest districts by the suburbanites — many of whom depend upon the city for their livelihoods — was the brainchild of a priest, Msgr. Robert J. Fox, coordinator of the Spanish Community of the Roman Catholic Diocese of New York. He talked it up in meetings in suburban churches over several months. The idea spread, and caught on.

The thousands of volunteers did their good work, side by side with the slum residents, in Harlem, in the Lower East Side, in the "Hogan's Alley" district of the Bronx.

At first, the Times reported, many of the residents were skeptical. But within a couple of hours, they were out in the streets in force on most blocks, helping clean up their own neighborhoods.

When it was over, the city sanitation department hauled away 366 truckloads of rubbish which had been collected and piled in the streets.

THE ONE-DAY clean-up, paint-up was, of course, largely a gesture. The Times quoted Benjamin Wood, a slum resident on West 113th Street:

"Why clean outside? The roaches are not living in the streets. They're living inside. You got water leaks inside and rats as big as dogs . . . All the badness is inside, and that will still be there tomorrow."

There was probably less badness inside on the next day, though, or on the next or the next. Residents of the miscalled "ghettos" could take a new pride in the neighborhoods they helped clean. As a loudspeaker reminded them on Spanish-speaking Sixth Street, it would be up to them to keep clean the blocks "our friends are helping us with."

"Nothing to look backward to with pride,

Skunks In Mothballs

Skunks are cunning creatures with winning ways, but they can become a nuisance. Skunks will be skunks. They may even like you, but this doesn't provide much consolation when they have their fights with the neighbor's cat or dog on your front lawn or patio.

We used to encourage the skunks to come around each night by putting out bits of food for them. Friends have done the same. Inevitably, we all reached the conclusion that skunks were charming, but undependable friends and were not to be encouraged to live in our neighborhoods, under our houses or in the wood piled next to our outdoor fireplace.

A friend in Kentfield recently had a skunk problem in her basement. She sought advice and was told to sprinkle some mothballs around, that skunks do not like the odor and will leave. It worked for her and we pass it on.

Assembly Committee Clears New Approach To Urban Renewal

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The first step toward a new approach to slum clearance and urban renewal was taken recently by the Assembly committee on municipal and county government when it unanimously cleared AB 115, by Assemblyman Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy.

The measure provides for eradication of slum areas through action by private enterprise, and renewal of these areas in the same manner.

"IT CONSTITUTES a fresh approach to public housing and community development, as well as resident enthusiasm and support for neighborhood improvement projects," Monagan told the committee.

"The bill was written in response to public demand for greater local control of planning and renewal processes.

"Our aim is to provide substantial and attractive housing for low and middle income families, as well as normal market housing. We also seek to preserve the cohesion of the neighborhoods involved, and to maintain the small business and establishments which are an integral part of neighborhood life."

THE MEASURE provides for initiation of a renewal program upon petition of 20 per cent or more of the residents of an area who are over 21 years of age.

The local governing body, which would be either a city council or board of trustees, would submit the petition to the local planning commission. If the planning commission approved, it then would have to be approved by 60 per cent of the property owners within the area affected.

With these steps carried out, a corporation would be created with a board of directors of up to 15 members, two-thirds of whom would be non-property owners residing within the area. The corporation directors would be subject to the exclusive approval of the local governing body and the planning commission.

The corporation could sell tax-exempt bonds to enable the redevelopment program to proceed.

THE ONLY PUBLIC expense involved as far as the state is concerned would be a clerical job by the attorney general's office in examination of the bonds.

Monagan said it might be necessary to secure some federal funds to proceed with the planning of the renewal project.

"However," he stated, "I can't think of a better way to do this than to have the state authorize local communities to improve their own areas the way they want to do it."

The measure now is before the Assembly committee on ways and means.

Thanks To Many For Aid In Fire

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On April 18, 1968, our house was partially destroyed by a fire and the ensuing smoke damage made our residence uninhabitable. My wife and I wish to express our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for all the assistance and help rendered by so many of the wonderful residents of Novato. In particular we wish to extend our thanks to Brian Peppers and Clyde Campbell of the San Marin Enco Station, whose quick thinking saved our home from total destruction. A special thanks also to our local postman in the San Marin area for his quick response, as well as Officer Albert Mendoza of the Novato Police Department, who also notified the fire department.

Our thanks also to the Novato Fire Department, and in particular to Lieutenant Nolan who suffered smoke inhalation in his search of our house for any occupants. Thank God my wife and child were out of the residence at the time of the fire.

We were overwhelmed at the immediate response of all our wonderful neighbors in the San Marin area, as well as my fellow employees and so many other people that gave us assistance, both through words of comfort and their generous donations of clothing for our child and ourselves.

Feeder Bus Lines And Staggered Hours

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In response to your editorial today (April 22) entitled, "Marin Transit Plan Needs To Be Widened," I wish to inform you that alternative plans have been proferred; albeit, with no apparent results.

On several occasions since October of last year I have proposed, orally and by letter to the Marin Transit District, the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District and authorities in San Francisco as well as California congressmen that a self-supporting system of mini-buses (similar to the Mission Street—Daly City jitneys) be considered for public transport in Marin County. Additionally, I proposed that the mini-buses feed other systems of rapid transit; e. g. highspeed closed-circuit monorail possibly utilizing the surplus aircraft fuselages as cars, BART and/or ferries (ugh).

The proposals suggested that in addition to the advantages you mentioned, there could be the establishment of a rather large business for Marin County offering revenue and occupations for residents. Apparently, the proposals were not deemed worthy of mention at the supervisory level, or at director meetings of the Golden Gate Bridge Authority.

Frankly, after hearing and reading considerable diatribe on the subject, and observing the monument-building tendencies of some, I feel that the commuter traffic problem (and let's face the truth; this is the only real problem) can best be solved by staggering the working hours. This would immediately relieve the situation without cost, nor obligation to the state or federal government, while making our everyday lives more interesting, varied and comfortable.

This suggestion has been offered three times now to our public servants, but I have received neither reply nor acknowledgement.

Souza Response On Bond Issue

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I welcome the opportunity to rebut the criticisms of Frank Blake and Fay Jensen (I.-J. April 23) toward my letter on the proposed Fairfax Civic Center. I agree that we should get our "Fair-Facts" straight.

I wonder if Blake, Jensen & "Committee" are aware that when the need for upgrading our civic facilities were discussed by the former city council in 1966 and early 1967, all recommendations (at least those which came to my attention) favored using city property rather than acquiring other sites. These recommendations were from our grassroots citizens committee on "Community Character and Appearance," from the county planning staff, and from our own city administrator. Why, then, the change of opinion as to a suitable site for a new fire house? In my judgment, it can be partly attributed to the final presentation of the county master plan in which a Sherman-Domingo-Napa by-pass road is strongly advised . . . perhaps so that Fairfax will provide the access (which Ross refused) to the recently acquired county recreational area. . .

Next item: The Fairfax French Laundry is our largest private employer in town. (Apologies to the non-taxable Fairfax School District). I doubt whether my critics took the trouble to examine the laundry's personnel records as I did. They would have found that all but six employees presently live in Marin County; of these, 16 live right here in Fairfax.

Regarding the apparent minor loss of revenue to the City if the laundry is removed from the tax rolls, Mr. Blake and Mrs. Jensen conveniently omitted figures for the two other pieces of commercial property which will also be taken if the bond issue passes. . .

And now, for the most absurd "fact": "The facilities will be built within this amount (the $550,000 bond issue) or they can't be built with this issue." Will a part of the project be left uncompleted because we run out of money? Mrs. Jensen spent too many years on the school board not to understand the problems of financing public projects. Where schools are concerned, I understand that the state comes to the rescue. Who is going to help Fairfax except the citizens faced with another bond issue or something just as unacceptable?

AN APPEALS Judge in Michigan offers some wise words on an old question: Picking an "impartial" jury.

Jurors in a criminal trial, says Judge Louis McGregor, must be unprejudiced — but it's not necessary that they never have heard or read anything about the case before them.

The opinion resulted from a robbery-murder appeal. The court upheld the conviction despite arguments that some jurors had been aware of the case before trial. The crime had been fully covered in the press.

An impartial juror, said McGregor, is not necessarily "without impression or opinion." The important thing is that he be able to "lay aside his impressions and base his verdict on the evidence."

McGregor has stated what most of his fellow judges and lawyers have long known — that it's unrealistic to expect to find jurors who are completely blank on a case that has had local publicity. Juries are supposed to be made up of reasonable, fair men and women — not morons or zombies.

Nixon Playing The Dewey Game While Bobby Finds Troubles

SAN FRANCISCO — At the Burlingame Club, down the peninsula from this handsome city, a small scenario was played out the other night on the big political screen. At the club, one of those very simple very expensive playgrounds for the very rich who can pass the stiff requirements of the admissions committee, a gay dinner-dance was in progress.

Suddenly someone had a brilliant idea. In the town hall in the nearest community the deadline for voter registration was midnight. There was still time to go down to register Democratic to vote against Bobby Kennedy in the California primary June 4.

So the jewels, the furs, the black ties piled into their big cars and made it just under the deadline. One of the chic registrants, waking in a sober, morning mood, said, "Great heavens, what have I done! And I've been a Republican all my life?"

AT THE OTHER extreme of the political spectrum, Senator Kennedy got a rude shock at the conclusion of his recent campaign swing through California. The booing and heckling of the far-left Peace and Freedom faction made it impossible for him to deliver his prepared speech and left him somewhat shaken and dismayed. Earlier the angry reaction of students at a reception at the University of San Francisco had jolted the campaigning Kennedy.

These two incidents suggest the problem confronting the senator not only in the primaries but the presidential election beyond if he wins the nomination of his party. He must find support in the great mass in the middle. And there is evidence that Bobby and his screaming adulators scare the solid middle class as much as they do the upper-income brackets.

OUT IN THE country, insofar as one can discover in a brief excursion, the cries of alarm in Washington — inflation, the threat to the dollar, the long, hot summer — are scarcely heard. Whatever may be the discontents in the depths, the surface is reassuringly normal. The rollicking conventioins (happily tax deductible, planes filled with vacationers, bustling crowded hotels — all this seems to reflect a determination to live it up in normalcy.

In his current swing through the West, with concentration on Oregon, Richard Nixon gives every sign of having carefully appraised this mood. He is aiming down the middle, repeating the reassuringly familiar formulae about economy in government, the need for restraint, for curbing violence and maintaining law and order. He says that spending billioins is no answer to the decay of the cities and the tension in the ghettos. Thereby he fires a shot at Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, who called for a program of $150 billion over 10 years to rebuild metropolitan America. He rebukes critics of the administration's Vietnam policy, imposing on himself a see-no-evil, hear-no-evil, speak-no-evil moratorium.

In short, at this stage Nixon, as one observer put it, is Thomas E. Dewey equipped with a warmhearted smile. Dewey's above-the-battle posture in his second try for the presidency in 1948 contributed to his defeat by Harry Truman taking the role of fighting underdog. Nixon's personal style is notably cheerier than anything Dewey achieved.

This is, of course, Nixon's primary stance. He has been saying from the start that once he has the nomination he means to open up. I will not have to defend a past record of eight years as I did in 1960, is the way he puts it. I will be on the offensive, attacking, attacking, attacking.

WHILE 1948 was not the year for the bland, statesmanlike Dewey approach, "don't rock the boat" might be just the right slogan for 1968, with the calming influence of a Republican president essential to show that the wild cries of alarm are merely Democratic propaganda.

Let it quickly be added that this ploy — the cheerful promise that the old familiar more of the same will work — is predicated on one of the biggest "ifs" ever. It could conceivably succeed if there is no major explosion — in the cities, over the dollar, over an enlarged war — before Nov. 5.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — The scandal-scarred anti-poverty program is in very deep trouble in the House appropriations subcommittee now considering its multi-billion dollar budget.

Bipartisan committee sources say flatly there is absolutely no chance of the Office of Economic Opportunity getting the $2.1 billion authorized by Congress last year for the fiscal year starting July 1. Committee sentiment is overwhelmingly against that.

The question is how deep to cut.

THERE IS STRONG opposition to even giving OEO as much as it has in the current fiscal year — $1.77 billion. Some committeemen are demanding its budget be slashed to $1.5 billion, and possibly less.

Prompting this critical attitude was White House shifting of some $200 million of OEO funds to the Labor Department for manpower and job-training programs. As a consequence, OEO was compelled to shut down 16 Job Corps centers and drastically reduce the Community-Action and Headstart programs — the last the most popular of OEO projects.

Committeemen are irately recalling that last fall former OEO Director Sargent Shriver told them, "We can live with a budget of $1.68 billion." Congress gave the agency $1.77 billion. Whereupon a few months later President Johnson, by executive order, in effect cut OEO funds by $200 million by switching the money to the Labor Department.

There has been no explanation to Congress for this action. Every attempt to ascertain just what this was all about has been adamantly rebuffed by Rep. Carl Perkins, D-Ky., chairman of the education and labor committee, which has jurisdiction over anti-proverty legislation.

The new Hall of Justice wing, which is one and one-half times longer than the existing Civic Center building, is coming along fast and is still on schedule.

This means the move from the old courthouse in San Rafael will occur by the end of this year.

The new wing will look the same from the outside, but the interior will have some improvements. There will be no escalator, which isn't too practical anyway, but there will be more stairwells conveniently located, and mail chutes.

Added feature in the new wing will be a cigar and news stand, and a little electric go-cart will be scurrying down the quarter-mile-long corridor, carrying mail and supplies from office to office.

The candlepower of lights in the new parking area will be stepped up somewhat. Lights in the existing parking lot may be esthetic from a distance, but they are duds as far as illumination goes.

Even when the lamps are lit, you have to grope your way to find your car.

THE COUNTY ADMINISTRATOR'S freeze on hiring has been relaxed to the extent that replacements are allowed if the need can be shown. Asst. Administrator John F. Barrows, who lost his secretary immediately after the freeze, has been allowed to hire a replacement.

THERE ARE hopeful signs of improving relations between law enforcement agencies and various communities.

For some time, the sheriff has been working closely with the Human Rights Commission in an effort to prevent stress and strain.

Now, we understand that the district attorney is working jointly with the human rights police-community relations committee on program planning. These positive steps toward prevention instead of only cure are encouraging.

A NEW RELIEF map of the entire county is on display at the south end of the Civic Center, on the second floor. There's nothing spectacular to look at; for example, Mount Tamalpais doesn't loom head and shoulders above the entire terrain. But that's precisely what makes the map so spectacular: It's in perfect scale — one inch to a thousand feet both horizontal and vertical. Since the peak of Mt. Tam is about 2,500 feet high, it is only two and one-half inches high on a map that extends 26 feet from tip to tip.

PLANNERS AND engineers hope to make good use of the map in determining where roads should go, or how drainage systems should be set up.

The process of making the relief map to scale is an intriguing one. They used a gadget to trace the elevation lines on a U.S. Geodetic Survey map. Synchronized with the gadget was a cutting tool that cut the elevation lines out of styrofoam. The hundreds of elevation lines, cut out of styrofoam, were assembled to form the contours of the relief map.

Albert Solnit of the planning department says that to his knowledge, this is a revolutionary process that has seldom if ever been used by a public agency before.

Tin Pan Alley Can't Raise Din With Lyrics About Ho Chi Minh

WASHINGTON — One of the troubles with the Vietnamese war is that no one has been able to write a war song to go with it. Everyone knows you can't have a really good war without a socko song that people can sing and whistle back in the United States.

For four years, Tin-Pan Alley has been working day and night on a war song, without success. The other day I looked in on two friends of mine, Al and Leo, who, despite the rumors of peace talks, are still determined to come up with a war song this country can be proud of.

When I walked in, Al was singing, "It's a long way to the Mekong Delta/ It's a long way to go./ Keep your eye out for the Viet Cong/ They're a sneaky bunch you know."

Leo said, "I don't know what's the matter with us. How do you like this one: 'Pack up your napalm in your old kit bag/ And smile, smile, smile!'?"

"It doesn't send me," I had to admit.

"The trouble with this damn war," Al said, "is that it's got too many sociological aspects. It's so complicated."

"That's right," Leo agreed. "Have you ever tried to write lyrics about a pacification program? I tell you, it's downright discouraging. Do you know at one time we were the best war-song writers in the business?"

"WE WROTE 'Shut Your Trap You Dirty Jap or Uncle Sam Will Shut It for You' in 12 minutes in 1942," Al said.

"And don't forget the 'Adolph Hitler Polka'," Leo added.

"Those were the good old days," Al said, "when you could really get your teeth into the enemy. We had yellow-belly Nips and goose-stepping Krauts."

"And Tokyo Rose and Lord Haw-Haw and fat-faced Goering, and shorty Goebbels. Man, they were enemies!"

"Look what we got now," Leo said. "Ho Chi Minh looks like a starving Santa Claus, and no one in North Vietnam weighs more than 87 pounds."

"I COULD BE a problem," I had to admit to the boys.

"Washington has begged us for four years to write something. They said the war would never catch on unless people were singing about it. And they were right," Leo said.

Al said, "We're not copping a plea, but this war just doesn't have the old drive, the old caissons, the old Patton, the old MacArthur, the old 'Praise-the-Lord-and-Pass-the-Ammunition' feeling."

Leo said, "The fun's gone out of war-song writing."

I said, "I can't believe it, men. You can't tell me that after all these years you guys can't come up with an inspirational song about the Vietnamese war. Surely you can come up with something that would make this country believe we're doing the right thing."

AL SAT DOWN at the piano and started to sing: "Over there/ Over there/ Send the word/ Send the word/ To beware./ Without negotiation/ There'll be escalation/ And we won't stop bombing till it's over, over there."

Leo said, "It's no 'Let's Remember Pearl Harbor'."

"It isn't even 'Roll Me Over in the Clover'," I said.

Al continued singing: "We'll be over/ We're coming over/ And we won't come back until, until it's been clearly established that the South Vietnamese will be free to decide their own destinies under the full Geneva agreements and agression from the north will be discontinued and the bases in Cambodia and Laos will be dismantled, so help us God."

"It's got a good feeling to it," I told Al, "but it doesn't rhyme."

Exhibit at Co-Op Beginning Monday

An exhibit of landscape photographs and ink prints of native plants went on display beginning today at the Marin Co-op in Corte Madera, not in Gallery III, as reported in Friday's Independent-Journal.

The photographs are by Dr. John Starkweather, Lucie Butterworth and Gerrie Reichard and the prints are by Ida Geary.

RESOLUTION NO. 9684
RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF MARIN COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, OF INTENTION TO EXCHANGE REAL PROPERTY

WHEREAS, pursuant to Government Code Section 25365, the Board of Supervisors may, by a four-fifths vote, exchange real property with a School District where the real property to be transferred is not required for County use and the property to be acquired is required for County use; and

WHEREAS, the County of Marin has proposed that the property in EXHIBIT "E", attached hereto and incorporated herein, now owned by the County of Marin be exchanged for the property described in EXHIBITS "A" and "C", attached hereto and incorporated herein, now owned by the San Rafael School District; and

WHEREAS, the County property proposed to be exchanged is not required for County use and the property proposed to be acquired is required for County use in that it will permit a needed widening of San Pedro Road; and

WHEREAS, inasmuch as the property to be acquired by the County is of considerably greater value than the property to be given up by County, it has been proposed that the County pay to the School District the sum of $4,723.00; and

WHEREAS, this Board feels that this exchange and payment would be in the best interest of the County of Marin,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT HEREBY RESOLVED as follows:

1. That it is the intention of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin to agree to said exchange and to make the payment described above.

2. That Tuesday, the 7th day of May, 1968, at 3:00 o'clock P.M., is hereby set as the time for a public hearing on the question of said exchange and payment.

3. That the Clerk of this Board is hereby directed to cause notice of this intended action by publishing this Resolution once in a newspaper of general circulation at least one week prior to the date set for hearing.

The foregoing Resolution was passed and adopted by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin at a meeting held on the 23rd day of April, 1968, by the following vote:

PROJECT NO. F-08
LYNWOOD SLOUGH
STORM DRAINAGE FACILITIES
MARIN COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS
SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed Proposals will be received by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, State of California, until 10:00 a.m., May 20, 1968 for:

The construction of Pump Station, channel, railroad culvert crossing, and other miscellaneous work, and the relocation of drainage pumps and appurtenances, in Novato, California.

The work shall be done in accordance with official plans and specifications prepared in reference thereto which may be seen at the office of the Department of Public Works, County of Marin. Request for forms or information shall be addressed to the Department of Public Works, County of Marin, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

Plans, Specifications (but not including Standard Specifications or other documents included by reference), and Proposal Forms may be obtained by prospective bidders upon payment of a deposit of Ten Dollars ($10.00) cash or check made payable to the Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District to guarantee safe return of the plans and specifications within ten (10) days after bid opening. Failure to so return the plans and specifications will cause forfeiture of the deposit to the District.

All bids must be submitted on the Proposal form obtained from the Director of Public Works of the County of Marin and shall be accompanied by a Proposal Guaranty of at least ten per cent (10%) of the bid. Guaranties shall be in the form of a certified or Cashier's Check or a Bidder's Bond. Failure of the successful bidder to execute and return the contract, or to file acceptable bond, as required, within the time allotted shall be cause for the annulment of the award and the forfeiture of the Proposal Guaranty. All guaranties not so retained by the District shall be returned to the bidders within fifteen (15) days after the award of the contract.

Proposal shall be filed with George H. Gnoss, Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

Said Proposals will be opened and read at 10:00 a.m., in Room No. 343, Marin County Civic Center, on the day specified above for receiving bids. Only the total amount bid will be read and not specific items going to make up said total unless written request for reading of each sub-total and individual items of the bid is requested in writing at the time of the submission of proposals. Bidders will be at liberty to inspect and review bids in the Office of the Director of Public Works of the County of Marin to which they will be removed for the purpose of checking after the opening and reading of the totals.

The Board of Supervisors of the Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District will award the bid at 1:30 p.m., May 21, 1968, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard.

Bids are required for the entire work described herein, and neither partial bids nor contingent bids will be considered.

The Board of Supervisors of the Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

TIME LIMIT

The contractor shall commence work on or before the 10th day following the date of written notification of approval of the contract by the Director of Public Works and shall complete all work on the project within 120 calendar days counting from and including the said 10th day.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Fatal Accidents A Test Of Wills

California law determines rights of inheritance when a man and wife die in a "common disaster" such as a highway accident.

Suppose Mr. and Mrs. Jones, who hold much property in joint tenancy, die in a car accident. In their wills Mr. Jones leaves his wealth to a charity; Mrs. Jones leaves hers to her daughter, Jane.

Who gets the property — the charity or Jane?

It depends on who died first. If Mr. and Mrs. Jones died at the same time Jane and the chairty may share alike.

Today the law favors neither man nor wife. First it seeks to find out who in fact did outlive the other. If it cannot do so, then the law presumes roughtly that they died at the same time; or, more precisely, "as if each had survived."

If the husband survives his wife by a short time, the property would pass at once to him, and soon afterwards, when he dies, it would go to his heirs (not to his wife's). If he died first, the property would go to her and then to her heirs.

Under community property law some of the wife's heirs can inherit if the husband died leaving no will.

Often much of one's estate is in life insurance which special rules cover. Let's say a husband's policy names his wife as beneficiary. If both die in a common disaster, the law presumes the insured (the husband) survived, and the insurance becomes part of his estate.

The law has to settle questions harshly sometimes, which people failed to settle while alive. It sets the time when someone died, and says who will get the property.

The rules may not fit your situation. Can you do anything about them?

Yes. You can make a will to solve many such problems. You can set your own time when property passes to heirs. You can also say under what conditions they will inherit.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

Boy, 15, Cited As Marijuana Suspect

A 15-year-old Novato boy was cited to juvenile hall at 10:30 p.m. Saturday after police found a substance thought to be marijuana in his bedroom, Novato police reported.

Investigation from previous cases had led the police to suspect that the boy had the marijuana. His mother gave her consent to search his room, according to police.

Given Five Days

Gary Douglas Price, 26, of Vallejo, was sentenced to five days jail in Marin Municipal Court Friday for reckless driving and being in a place where marijuana is used. The California Highway Patrol arrested him Nov. 23 on Highway 37.

"WEE PALS," A NEW, UNUSUAL COMIC STRIP
starts Mon., April 29

You'll enjoy the humor of Morrie Turner, the "gentle persuader" who has created the first integrated comic strip in the history of the American press. This is humor . . . and also a lesson in humanity. The characters are kids, but what they say, what they do, is pungent comment on the problems of society today.

"Wee Pals," carried by such newspapers as the Los Angeles Times and Philadelphia Bulletin, is an editorial breakthrough. But while it carries a message, it doesn't preach. Look for "Wee Pals" daily on the I-J comic page. Most rewarding . . . and a lot of fun.

INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL

IN A BARBERSHOP?—Ray Whited puts finishing touches on a mural he is painting for his uncle's barbershop in San Rafael. Whited has not been pursuaded yet to give any business yet to the shop as he has not had his hair cut in about a year. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

Higher Tab On Welfare Costs Feared

If the courts decide to eliminate residency requirements for four categories of public assistance, Marin County may be stuck with an added cost of $42,000 to $47,000 next fiscal year.

This is the estimate made by Donald Sanford, administrative deputy in the Department of Public Social Services, in a report to the board of supervisors.

Last week, a special three-man federal court in San Francisco issued an injunction, ordering all counties to abolish residency requirements for the aged, disabled, aid to families with dependent children and general relief.

If this order becomes permanent, the total added cost in Marin County would be about $168,000 for the coming year, with the county's share totalling $42,000, Sanford estimated.

For the remainder of this fiscal year, the added cost to the county is about $3,095.

At present, the residency requirements are as follows: Aged — five years of the last nine years in California, including the last full year.

Disabled — three years of the last nine in California, including the last one year.

Also, aid to families with dependent children — birth in California or one year in the state for a child, or one year for a parent. General relief — three years in California and one year in Marin. There is no residency requirement for the blind.

Inner Mongolia was organized by the People's Republic as an Autonomous Region on May 12, 1947.

FIRST COMMISSION

Bushy-Haired Artist's Haven Is A Barbershop

Ray Whited, formerly of Fort Bragg and most recently of San Anselmo, has been commissioned by his uncle, Marion O. (Frisco) Hulbert to paint a mural for his San Rafael barbershop.

Whited said shyly that he "needed the money" and his uncle wanted something to adorn the long wall of the Artistic Barbershop at 1545-B Fourth Street.

"My uncle was going to buy a wallpaper scene for the wall," Whited explained. Instead, he decided to give his long-haired nephew his first big commission.

Whited thinks it's been about a year since he had his hair cut. Although it wouldn't seem possible that he could have grown that much hair in a year, Whited says the high school in Fort Bragg, where he graduated last June, did not allow long hair.

The young artist, who says his only training was in art classes at high school, attended College of Marin for a while last fall, but since that time has drifted about. He recently moved into a house in San Anselmo with some friends.

"Now that I have a place to live, I can paint a lot," he said.

When his uncle was asked if barbers feel kindly toward young men with Whited's type of hair-do, Hulbert replied that since his nephew "probably gets a haircut once a year," he still gives barbers some business.

"If I have enough customers like him, I'm busy," the barber said, adding that "it's a challenge to cut that kind of hair."

Deadline Set For Photographs

The Ross Valley Camera Club today announced that photographic entries in the 1968 Marin Art and Garden Fair, July 3-7, must be received by June 12 to be eligible for this year's exhibit.

Judging will be June 15. Competition is open to residents of the nine Bay Area counties, and winners will receive trophies or merit award ribbons.

Each contestant may submit four entries in each division, pictorial slides and monochrome prints. Entry forms are available at the fair office in Ross.

$575 Fine On Drunken Driving

Byron L. Haveside, 36, of 22 Edwards Avenue, Sausalito, originally arrested for suspicion of felony drunken driving, was fined $575 and placed on two years probation in Marin Muncipal Court Friday for misdemeanor drunken driving.

Haveside was arrested Feb. 28 in Sausalito, after his car reportedly struck Basil Catachanas, 34, of Sausalito, as he crossed Turney Street, Sausalito.

Richard G. Lahrson, 22, of 130 Homestead Avenue, Mill Valley, who escaped injury in a spectacular San Rafael crash April 1, was sentenced to three days jail, fined $115 and placed on two years probation for driving while drunk that day.

Lahrson's car, allegedly traveling 120 miles per hour on the Miracle Mile, crashed through a fence on Second Street, struck a porch and slammed against a tree.

Others sentenced for drunken driving offenses Friday were Homer E. Winfield, 49, of 186 Morningsun Avenue, Mill Valley, fined $289 and placed on two years probation. He was arrested Feb. 24 on Highway 101.

John T. Phelan, 52, of 2 Rita Court, Novato, sentenced to five days in jail, fined $289 and placed on two years probation. Phelan, who had a prior conviction, was arrested on C Street, San Rafael, Nov. 20.

John Leo Archer, 56, of Sausalito, fined $150 and placed on a year of probation. He was arrested on Spring Street, Sausalito, Feb. 19.

Okun Accepted In Peace Corps

Ira Okun, former superintendent of Marin County Juvenile Hall, has been accepted into the Peace Corps and will be assigned as deputy director for the corps in Ghana.

Okun and his family will leave May 6 for Washington, D. C., where he will be trained.

Okun served as superintendent of Juvenile Hall from July 1965, to March 31 this year when he resigned.

Improvement Club Elects Directors

New directors were elected Friday night by the Mariner Cove Improvement Association at the annual dinner meeting at San Clemente School in Corte Madera.

New directors are Lawrence Elleson, Richard T. Hollingsworth, Heber C. Leney, William J. Ridyard and Carl P. Schug. Officers will be elected at the May 8 meeting of the board.

Air Pollution

Air pollution in Marin will be discussed by Paul N. Brand, county inspector for the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, at a Marin County Real Estate Board breakfast at 8 a.m. tomorrow in the Corte Madera Lions Club.

Transit Plans To Be Viewed

Marin Transit District directors will consider bus transit legislation and a bill to abolish the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center.

A bill by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, would dissolve the bridge district and create a Marin-San Francisco Transit District. Other legislation to be discussed by Marin transit directors for a possible stand would authorize the district to operate buses and exempt commuter buses from paying fuel taxes.

Directors also will discuss a proposal by Seymour Kashin, general manager of the district, to widen Highway 101 median strips for bus use and, ultimately, rail transit.

$100,000 Asked For Fatal Crash

A fatal accident on Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, last Sept. 15 resulted in a $100,000 wrongful death suit, filed Friday in Marin Superior Court.

The suit was filed against Daniel Granger Ayers and Rena B. Ayers, of 14 Washington Street, San Rafael, by Lesley R. Hughes, father of the victim, William L. Hughes, 36, of Petaluma.

Air Force Brass To Attend Dinner

Officers attending a San Rafael dinner next month to honor a Vietnam veteran will be Air Force brass—and not Army as reported in last night's Independent-Journal.

The dinner, called by Marvelous Marin Chapter No. 1969, Sons of Italy, will be at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant May 5 at 6 p.m. to honor Sgt. John L. Pighini, assigned to the 41st Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base.

No Pay Raises Yet In Gallinas District

Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District employees have not been given a 6 per cent pay raise as yet, District Secretary Helen Foulkes has explained.

Last week, the directors set up a preliminary budget, making allowance in it for a 6 per cent pay raise from next January, but the raise itself must be voted on later this year, said Mrs. Foulkes.

Budget Review

Bay Area Air Pollution Control District directors will receive a preliminary budget for fiscal 1968-69 at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the district office, 1480 Mission Street, San Francisco.

BIGGEST — Although not an offical part of the parade, the Argo was among the many boats on the bay yesterday. Bob Hensen, in charge of the parade, reported the boat is owned by a Southern California construction company.

San Rafael Yacht Wins

Captures Parade Top Prize

A 40-foot boat with a most un-Norseman-like name captured the fancy of the decoration judges and came out on top of more than 100 decked out rivals in yesterday's traditional opening day Yachting parade in San Francisco Bay.

The Ann Tiki, skippered by Jerry Brebahl of the San Rafael Yacht Club, captured overall champion honors in the exterior decorations competition as she paraded lovingly disguised as an ancient Viking warship, spewing balloon missiles from its catapults, its dragon bow snorting red smoke.

Over 1,500 non-dressed up power and sail boats showed up for the annual yachting extravaganza.

The sloop Randori, skippered by Malcolm Sowers of the Corinthian Yacht Club in Tiburon honored, so to speak, the hippies of Haight Ashbury in taking runnerup honors in the sail boat division.

A 36-foot cruiser from as far away as the Kaneohe Yacht Club in Hawaii took third cruiser award, decked out as nothing less than a great white duck, distributing ballon "duck eggs" after cannon salutes for its "Duck Shoots Back" theme.

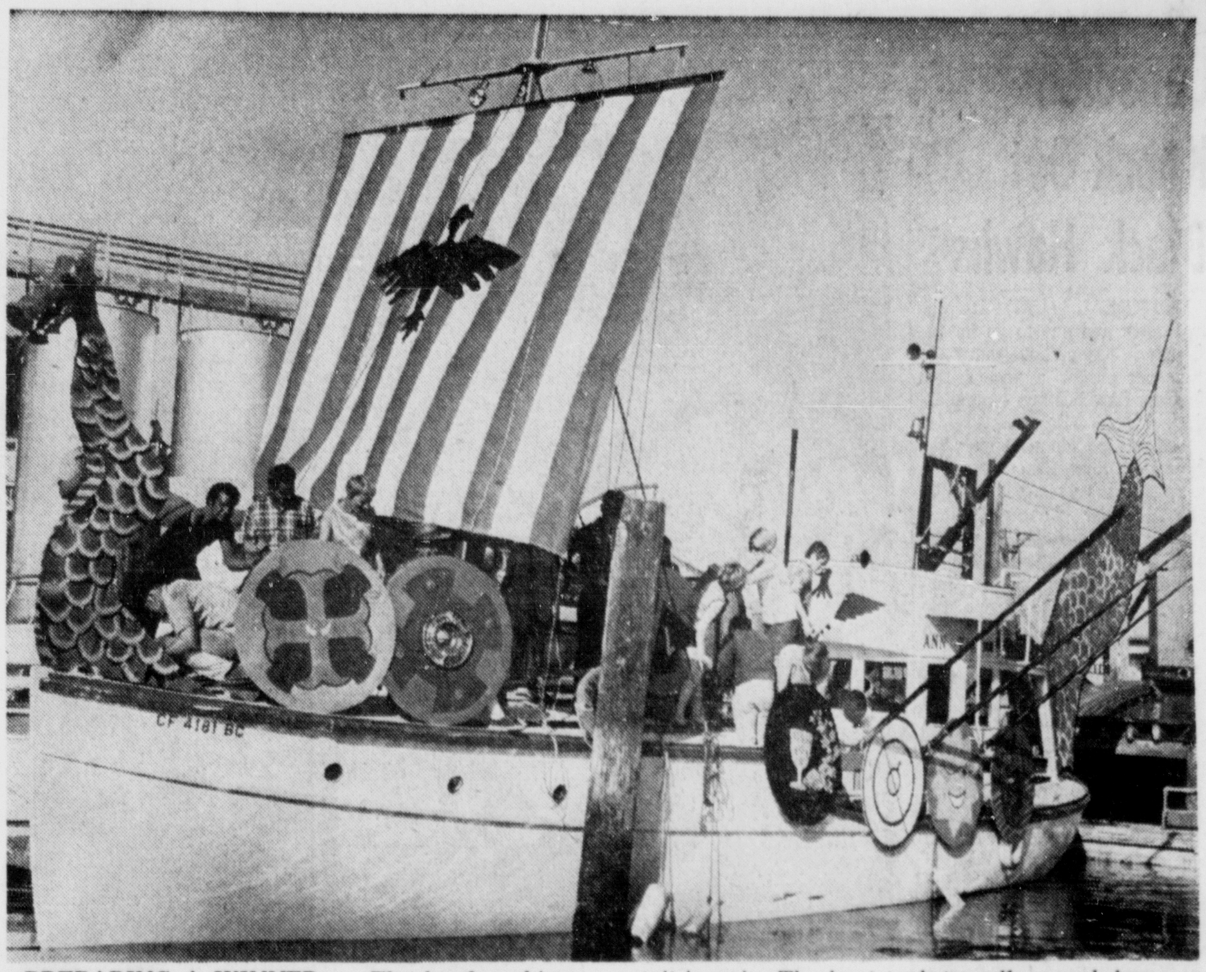
The Too Much of C. J. Peetz of Loch Lomond Yacht Club in San Rafael was sixth in the power boat division.

Oyster Point of South San Francisco contributed five of the 17 prize winners to the days competition. Loch Lomond and San Joaquin Yacht Club of Bethel Island contributed three each.

SMALLEST — Compared to the Argo, this canoe could be called the miniboat of yesterday's yacht parade.



PREPARING A WINNER — The hard-working sailors outfitting Jerry Brebahl's Ann Tiki of the San Rafael Yacht Club as a Viking warship didn't toil in vain. The boat took top all-around decoration honors in yesterday's grand opening day of the yachting season.

Victories For Marin Trackmen

Tamalpais sprinter Alan Lee and Terra Linda hurdler Lowell Harris paced a fine Marin County Athletic League showing in the power-packed El Cerrito Relays at El Cerrito Saturday.

Lee won the 100-yard dash in a sharp 9.9 seconds, coming in first by a good two yards with nobody breathing down his neck.

Harris took the 120-yard high hurdles in a near-record 14.5, winning by four yards, and coming within one-tenth of a second of a meet record.

The Novato distance medley relay team finished fifth in 10:57.8. The San Rafael 440-yard relay team took a fifth.

In Class B competition Redwood placed in to relay events, finishing second in the mile relay in 3:37.6 and fourth in the distance medley relay at 11:10.1.

HANNUM EYES WEST COAST, QUITS 76ERS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Alex Hannum resigned today as coach of the National Basketball Association's Philadelphia 76ers.

The club said a successor would be named within 10 days, or before the NBA's college draft in New York on May 8.

Hannum, who led Philadelphia to two Eastern Division titles and one over-all championship, last season, said he decided to quit after fulfilling his two-year contract in order to return to basketball on the West Coast.

More Troubles Pop Up For Franklin Mieuli

TEAR JERKER — I have a collection of my favorite Bunkies. You know, guys who fall into the "Is THAT what's troubling you, Bunkie?" category.

These are guys who come home from a hard day digging ditches to discover their landlords have evicted them, their wives have run off with the garbagemen, their kids have been nabbed smoking grass, their doctors have discovered clouds on their chest x-rays, and the Internal Revenue Service has detected a serious error in their tax returns.

Is THAT what's troubling you, Bunkie?

Well, kind hearts and gentle people, today I present Mr. Franklin Mieuli, president of the San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Association.

It Started With Barry Episode

Let's go back to the beginning. It was a pretty severe shock when Rick Barry, the Warriors' phenomenal star, quit Mr. Mieuli after a championship season and joined up with a rival team across the Bay in Oakland. After all, Barry's father-in-law was coach and general manager of the Oakland team, so Rick felt rather obligated to make the drastic move, even though it may haunt him the rest of his life. Anyway, Mr. Mieuli got over the shock and bravely smiled his way through a Barryless season.

Just when his ulcers began to show a slight improvement, Mr. Mieuli received shock number two. His great center, Nate Thurmond, suffered a torn cartilage in his right knee and was declared out for the season.

Thus, in two cruel twists of fate, Mieuli lost his two best players.

Now He's Looking For A Coach

And now, Bunkies, you can start breaking out the hankies because this is beginning to read like a Little Orphan Annie tear-jerker. Last Friday Mr. Mieuli received the coup de grace. His excellent coach Bill Sharman, who had done a magnificent job with the Warriors, announced his resignation to seek greener pastures elsewhere.

That last blow has qualified Franklin Mieuli for honorary lifetime membership in our exclusive "Bunkie Club."

The way things have been going, Mr. Mieuli can expect a continuation of misfortunes. Like, Clyde Lee will quit to join the Peace Corps and teach basketball in Africa, Rudy LaRusso will hang 'em up to open a pizza parlor in North Beach, Jeff Mullins will accept a freshman coaching job at Laney Junior College, Jim King will marry the daughter of the coach of the Dallas Chapparals, George Lee of San Rafael will turn down the Warriors' head coaching position and — finally — the last bitter Bunkie blow — Jim Hadnot will quit the Oakland Oaks and apply for a position with the Warriors.

Lakers Win, But West Hurt

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—The status of Los Angeles star Jerry West was the big question today with the Lakers and Boston Celtics tied at two victories apiece in the National Basketball Association championship series.

West, who missed more than 30 games during regular season play because of injuries, suffered a sprained left ankle in the final minute last night after scoring 38 points to pace Los Angeles to a 118-105 victory.

The fifth game of the best-of-seven final playoff series will be played at Boston tomorrow night with the sixth contest set here Thursday night.

West, the smooth-shooting country boy from West Virginia, tried to dismiss his injury as not serious but his coach, Bill Van Breda Kolff wasn't so sure.

"The patient should know better than I, but I have seen West not complain when his nose was hanging all over his face," Van Breda Kolff said.

West, who scored 23 of his points in the first half, limped off the forum court with 40 seconds remaining following a collision with the Celtics' John Havlicek.

Elgin Baylor, the Lakers other veteran star, poured in 30 points and second-year guard Archie Clark added 17 as the Lakers atoned for a 127-119 loss at home Friday night.

Bill Russell, Boston's player-coach who has been nearly flawless in the Celtics playoff games this year, was somber in defeat. "Both teams played poorly," he said.

Although he led all rebounders with 22 recoveries, Russell looked tired and scored only 11 points. He drew five personal fouls which hampered his defensive play late in the game.

Leading the way for the Celtics were Bailey Howell with 24 points and Havlicek with 23.

Los Angeles was in front nearly all the way, although the game was close until the Lakers pulled away in the final 10 minutes. They moved from an 86-84 lead with 9:55 to play into a 99-91 advantage with 6:04 remaining.

Miller Barber Gets Scare In Nelson Golf Final Round

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—It is a little disconcerting when you know you are playing as well as ever but the man playing with you is making eagles and birdies, chipping away at your once wide lead.

That was the experience of Miller Barber, a tour veteran, as he moved toward a $20,000 prize at the end of the line yesterday if he could just outlast Kermit Zarley who was surging grimly down the stretch.

FELT IT

Barber made it although he may never be the same again. The chunky man from Sherman, Tex., won the $100,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic with a closing par 70 for 270—10 under for the tournament.

He got there by one stroke over the youthful Zarley, who banged an eagle with a 175-yard six iron approach shot on the 10th hole, and got four birdies on the remaining holes for a six-under-par 64 competitive record over the 7,086-yard Preston Trail course.

Zarley's 29 on the last nine also was a course record and was within two of the all-time record for nine holes.

"I wasn't playing cautiously," Barber said when reminded he had a five-stroke lead over Harold Henning of South Africa going into the final round and seven over the slightly noticed Zarley, former University of Houston golfer from Seattle, Wash.

PUTTING OFF

"I just went after every birdie because I figured I needed some, but I didn't get any and I was hoping I could last until the holes ran out," Barber said. "I played as well as I had in the previous three rounds from tee to green. My putting may have been off some."

Barber ended with a bogey on 18 but it was after Zarley had missed a 25-foot putt by inches that would have given him a tie.

Henning, the putting star of the tournament, using only 110 in the 72 holes, gained two strokes on Barber in the final round by shooting a 68 and took down third money with 273.

RECORD CROWD

The classic drew 30,000 fans yesterday, which officials claimed was the largest ever to see a tournament in America, had total attendance for four days of 94,000 and total gate receipts of $205,093.

Byron Nelson, former Texas golf great for whom the tournament was named, expressed his pleasure it turned out so well. Barber said it was a great thrill to win the tournament because he once caddied for Nelson. It was at Texarkana, where Barber grew up, that he worked for Nelson on the golf course.

Perry's Run Drought Ends As Giant Bats Come Alive

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Largely because Willie McCovey and Ron Hunt were in a vengeful mood yesterday, the San Francisco Giants were firmly entrenched in second place in the National League going into the opener of a two-game series with Atlanta this afternoon.

Right-hander Juan Marichal (3-0) opposed knuckleball specialist Ken Johnson (0-1) as the Giants attempted to pick up some momentum going into this weekend's three-game series with World Champion St. Louis.

BIG DAY

McCovey collected three runs batted in with a two-run homer and a single and Hunt scored twice in yesterday's 6-1 rout of the Dodgers. The win left the Giants two and one-half games behind the league-leading Cardinals.

Both McCovey and Hunt had reasons to strike back at the Dodgers. McCovey because his error allowed Los Angeles to defeat the Giants, 4-1, Friday. Hunt because the Dodgers swapped him to San Francisco for catcher Tom Haller between seasons.

McCovey's third home run of the season followed a walk to Hunt in the first inning for a 2-0 lead against left-hander Claude Osteen, who was chased from the game when the Giants erupted for four runs in the second inning.

STRETCH LEAD

Jim Davenport's leadoff single and Jack Hiatt's double prefaced Hal Lanier's two-run single. Pitcher Gaylord Perry's sacrifice preceded Hunt's run-scoring single and McCovey capped the rally by driving in Hunt for 6-0.

Perry, who lost nine one-run decisions last season and was a 2-1 victim of Pittsburgh for his lone 1968 loss, allowed only five hits and struck out eight Dod-

Canadiens Knock Out Black Hawks

MONTREAL (UPI)—It was two down and one to go for the Montreal Canadiens today in their search for a record 15th Stanley Cup hockey championship.

And one person who feels the third and final step will be a mere formality is coach Billy Reay, whose Chicago Black Hawks were eliminated yesterday in the Eastern Division semi-finals. It was rookie Jacques Lemaire who drove the final two nails into the Chicago coffin.

The Canadiens defeated Chicago, 4-3, in overtime to win their fourth and decisive game at the forum yesterday as 15,456 fans including a pair of Canadian prime ministers, (Pierre Elliott Trudeau and Lester B. Pearson), roared their approval.

Montreal disposed of the Boston Bruins in the quickest possible time (4-0) in the quarter-finals. Now they must wait until St. Louis and Minnesota decide who will represent the Western Division in the first expansionist Stanley Cup final.

Coach Toe Blake of the Canadiens, who is looking for cup No. 8, says "it doesn't make any difference" who his Canadiens play, while Coach Reay of Chicago believes the finals are a foregone conclusion.

"The odds won't even be close," said a philosophical Reay whose Black Hawks went down fighting.

After losing three games in a row, the Hawks regrouped, recouped and managed to halt the Montreal express bent upon reaching the finals in eight consecutive games. And they gave it a good try yesterday.

Three times they fell behind the Canadiens, and three times they battled back to force the game into overtime, only to bow suddenly before the first extra period was three minutes old.

The man who ruined them was Lemarie, a rookie. For a while it appeared the 22-year-old Montrealer might be the goat of the game. It was his cross-checking penalty which allowed the Black Hawks to tie the game for the second time early in the third period. But five minutes later he scored Montreal's third go-ahead goal and then became the hero of the piece with a brilliant goal only 2:14 into the first overtime period.

The Canadiens, who outshot Chicago 44-27, also got goals from Bobby Rousseau and J.C. Tremblay while the Chicago marksmen were Bob Schmautz, Stan Mikita and Wayne Maki.

The Giants' right-hander retired the first 12 Dodgers before Ron Fairly collected his team's first hit in the fifth inning. Willie Davis' 400-foot home run in the seventh ruined the shutout bid and was the first earned run off San Francisco pitching in 25 innings.

HIKES AVERAGE

Hunt was a nemesis to his former teammates throughout the series. The scrappy second baseman collected five hits in 10 at bats to raise his average from .211 to .271, and was on base a total of eight times.

Catcher Jack Hiatt, who was batting .286 when he made his first start since April 18 Saturday, hit for the cycle in the two weekend games to lift his average to .345, ninth in the National League batting statistics.

Hiatt drove in two runs with a triple and a homer, and Willie Mays accounted for the other run with his 566th career home run, as left-hander Mike McCormick shackled the Dodgers, 3-0, on a five-hitter Saturday.

Tar Mermen Finish Ninth

College of Marin's swim team, hampered by lack of depth all season long, showed some in the Northern California Junior College Swim Meet at Cabrillo last Saturday, finishing a surprising ninth.

Individpally, coach Bob Justice's mermen turned in some of their best times ever. John Skaer, former Drake ace, turned in a hot 1:04.7 in the 100 breast to finish second and the College of Marin medley relay team gave Foothill a torrid race three-fourths of the way before finishing third. Dennis Good, Skaer, Dean Ferrandini and Mike McClellan turned in a 3:52.4 time in the 400-yard race.

Munyon Helps Sohner To Split

Catcher Jess Munyon hit a grand slam home run and a two-run single to drive in six runs and give Sahner Tree Service of San Anselmo a split in a Golden Gate Traveling League doubleheader yesterday with Walnut Creek at San Rafael's Albert Park.

The Treemen lost a 3-0 verdict in the opener but rallied behind Munyon's heroics for a 7-5 victory in the nightcap.

Sohner's 1968 chances received a severe jolt when fleet outfielder Art Donati broke his leg sliding at third base in the second game. Donati will be lost for at least six weeks.

TIGERS TONIGHT

A's Victory Streak Ends In Winning Road Trip

DETROIT (UPI) — "Travel and win" has been the standard of the new Oakland Athletics of the American League so far this season.

They will try to slick the skids of the front-running Detroit Tigers tonight in the opener of a two-game series after taking two of three from the California Angels during the weekend.

Righthander Chuck Dobson (1-1) is scheduled to open against the Tigers who are 4 1-2 games up on the A's. Detroit will counter with lefthander Mickey Lolich.

Home runs by Roger Repoz, his sixth of the season, and Rick Reichardt helped the Angels edge Oakland 4-3 yesterday to end a three-game A's win streak. Former Cincinnati Reds pitcher Sammy Ellis notched his first win in the A.L. against two losses. He allowed only four hits before leaving in the eighth inning when he put the first two men aboard on a single and a walk.

Singles by John Donaldson and Bert Campaneris brought home two runs in the eighth for Oakland. Ramon Webster doubled and Rick Monday singled for the final A's run in the ninth.

That left the A's with a road record of 5-3. They have been able to win only two of eight games at the Oakland Coliseum.

Athletic starter Lew Krausse lasted into the fourth inning to absorb his third loss without a victory.

Leading the Tigers' attack are catcher Bill Freehan who is batting .327 and outfielder Mickey Stanley with a .317 average. Tonight's game will be the first between the two teams this season.

Pro Tennis Outlook Somewhat Changed

BOURNEMOUTH, England (AP) — The giant killing feats of British tennis star Mark Cox could make a lot of difference to the lives of both professional and amateur players in the next few months.

Cox, 24, is the amateur who upset two professionals, Pancho Gonzalez and Roy Emerson, in the world's first open tournament—the British Hardcourts Championship.

More open contests are on the way. And the pros are working on the assumption that there are more Mark Coxes lurking around the tennis courts of Europe.

American promoter George MacCall, who has six of the top pros under contract, said:

"We know perfectly well that upsets of this kind will occur again. Our boys, already busy on the professional circuit, must find time to prepare properly for Wimbledon and other big tournaments.

"They have a reputation to defend.

"They now have such a heavy schedule that it's becoming a problem to fit in rest periods."

As for the amateurs, British officials hope they will take courage from Cox's success and enter all the open events they can.

Many leading European amateurs dodged the Bournemouth tournament—one they normally would have entered in its pure amateur days.

The organizers believe that this was partly because they feared heavy defeat by the pros and partly because many countries have still not defined their attitude to open tennis.

Cox competed for expenses only and missed the chance of winning $600 the prize for defeated semifinalists.

"I want to play in the big European events," he said. "I was afraid that if I played here for prize money I might be barred in countries where open tournaments are not approved."

Ken Rosewall defeated Rod Laver 3-6, 6-2, 6-0, 6-3 in an all-professional all-Australian final yesterday.

MacCall said he plans to enter his stars—Rosewall, Laver, Gonzales, Emerson, Fred Stolle and Andres Gimeno—in the French, Swedish and Irish championships as well as Wimbledon.

New Heavyweight Champ Ellis Plans To Keep Busy

OAKLAND (AP)—The underdog has his day in the heavyweight boxing division and most of the world now has somebody to call champion.

Jimmy Ellis, 28-year-old father of six, laid claim to the World Boxing Assocition title Saturday night when he won a split decision over Jerry Quarry of Bellflower, Calif. in the WBA tournament final.

"I want to be a fighting champ," Ellis said.

"I think all the fighters in the tournament and those in the Top Ten deserve a chance."

"I have two words for Joe Frazier," said Ellis' manager Angelo Dundee, "Al Jones. He is my policeman and the Florida champion. And he has the same record as Frazier, 21-0."

Ellis said he would like to fight undefeated Casius Clay, for whom he was a sparring partner and from whom the WBA title was lifted because of Clay's conviction of draft evasion.

Judge Rudy Ortega scored the fight 6-6 and judge Fred Apostoli and referee Elmer Costa favored Ellis, 10-5 and 7-6, respecitvely. The California scoring system awards up to five points to the winner of a round and none for the loser.

A crowd of 11,000 paid $180,000. Each fighter was guaranteed $125,000, with most of the proceeds coming from an international telecast of the bout.

"I just got licked," said Quarry, "but I'll be back."

"He hurt me several times with some good shots," said Ellis, "once early with an uppercut and in the 13th, but he didn't hit me hard enough to make me go out of my head.

Both suffered minor cuts — first and Quarry over the right first and uarry over the right eye in the second.

Both drew back often after short flurries.

"I made him fight my fight," explained Ellis. "I used the wrong strategy," said Quarry.

"It wasn't my toughest fight, said Ellis. "That was against Henry Hank when I was a middleweight." Hank decisioned Ellis in 1962.

Mark Donohue Wins At Riverside Track

The defending U.S. Road Racing titlist won the 156-mile event yesterday at the Riverside International Raceway with an average speed of 112.7 miles an hour. It was seven m. p. h. faster than his winning speed a year ago.

Much of the annual event's drama disappeared 3½ hours before the race when co-favorite Jim Hall of Midland, Tex., had to drop out when his Chevy-powered Chapparal had problems. He said there was a failure in the automatic transmission among other things.

With Hall out, Donohue's Chevy-powered McLaren was at times two miles ahead of second-place Lothar Motschenbacher.

GOLF

RALEIGH, N. C. — Carol Mann carded a final round par 72 for a 54-hole total of 214 to win the $15,000 Raleigh Ladies Invitational Golf Tournament, beating defending champion Kathy Whitworth by three strokes.

PINEHURST, N. C. — Twenty-year-old Jack Lewis took a 7 and 6 victory over insurance executive Bill Hyndman in the 36-hold finals of the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament and became the youngest to win the tourney since Jack Nicklaus did it at 19 nine years ago.

TRACK

WALNUT, Calif. — An Army All-Star team from Ft. MacArthur ran the world's fastest distance-medley race with a record time of 9 minutes, 33.4 seconds at the Mt. San Antonio Relays, bettering the old mark by four-tenths of a second.

DES MOINES, Iowa — A national collegiate record matching effort of 56.7 in the 480-yard shuttle hurdles relay swept Kansas to its third baton title after Van Nelson of St. Cloud, Minn., State completed a record distance double with a 28:22.2 victory in the six-mile run in the 59th Drake Relays.

PHILADELPHIA — Larry James' 43.9-second anchor quarter mile leg, the fastest ever run, gave Villanova a meet record 3:06.1 victory in the mile relay at the Penn Relays.

AUTO RACING

MARTINSVILLE, Va. — Cale Yarborough of Timmensville, S. C., averaging 66.686 m.p.h. in a 1968 Mercury, won the Virginia 500 stock car race at Martinsville Speedway, adding it to his Daytona 500 and Atlanta 500 victories.

SILVERSTONE, England — Dennis Hulme of New Zealand, in a McLaren Grand Prix car, won the Daily Express International Trophy race for Formula One cars in record time, averaging 122.17 m.p.h.

MADRID, Spain — Jean Pierre Beltoise of France won the Grand Prix of Madrid Formula Two auto race, driving his Matra Sport M.S. 7 at an average speed of 84.7 m.p.h.

NEW BREMEN, Ohio — Larry Dickson of Marietta, Ohio, led all the way in grabbing the 30-lap featured race for USAC sprint cars, covering the 15 miles in 9:25.39.

RACING

INGLEWOOD, Calif. — Poleax, $21.80, a longshot, rallied on the outside and beat Right Or Wrong by a neck in the $33.920 Will Rogers Stakes at Hollywood Park.

ALBANY, Calif. — Lucky, P.J., $19.40, won the $25,000-added Sacramento Handicap at Golden Gate Fields, beating favored Most Host at the wire.

White Sox Triumph Again But Stanky Keeps Running

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago White Sox have won two of their last three games and Manager Eddie Stanky still is running in the outfield.

JOGGING

The routine, which started in the middle of Chicago's season-opening 10 game losing streak, sends Stanky jogging across the outfield swinging a lead bat after each game. Then the little skipper retires to the trainer's room for meditation.

He could have had nothing but good thoughts yesterday after Ward's poke beat Dean Chance.

In other American League games, California nipped Oakland 4-3, Washington traded shutouts with Cleveland, winning 1-0 and then losing 2-0, New York split with Detroit, winning 2-1 and losing 3-2, and Boston blanked Baltimore 3-0 before the Orioles won the second game, 6-1.

Chance was nursing a 2-1 lead on homers by Harmon Killebrew and Ted Uhlaender going into the ninth but Luis Aparicio opened with a single and after Russ Snyder lined out, Ward connected.

FOURTH HOMER

The homer was Ward's fourth of the season and boosted his batting average to .340.

"We've been in every game but we've just been falling one hit short," said Ward, who made sure the Sox weren't one hit short this time.

"One bad pitch . . . that did it," said Cal Ermer, manager of the Twins.

And Stanky simply ran and swung his lead bat. He continued the post-game program even though he was ejected from the game in the sixth inning for protesting a third strike call.

Mickey Mantle doubled home the tying run and then carried in the winner on Roy White's single as the Yankees rallied for two eighth inning runs and a 2-1 victory over the Tigers in the first game.

In the nightcap, New York rallied, taking a 2-1 lead in the eighth but Bill Freehan and Jim Northrup hammered ninth inning homers that won it for the Tigers.

Jim Hardin's six-hitter beat Boston in the second game and earned a split for the Orioles after Jose Santiago pitched a four-hitter for the Red Sox in the opener.

Consecutive doubles by Brooks Robinson and Boog Powell set up a three-run Oriole rally in the fourth inning of the nightcap and Hardin held the Red Sox at bay. Carl Yastrzemski's single drove in Boston's only earned run in the opener.

Phil Ortega and Luis Tiant swapped two-hitters with Ortega scoring the only run in the Senators' first game victory and Tony Horton supplying the runs for the Indians' second game triumph.

COLLISION

Ortega bowled over Cleveland catcher Duke Sims in a home plate collision for the first game's only run. Ken McMullen's single, snapping an 0-for-17 slump, drove it in. Horton doubled and scored on Tommy Harper's seventh inning single, snapping a scoreless duel in the second game. Then Horton homered for an insurance run in the ninth inning.

Tom Phoebus Coming Back To Reality

He answered postgame questions routinely, but the ready smile was strangely missing from the Oriole quiet man. By yesterday, he was coming back to earth.

"I'm still a bit on cloud nine," Phoebus said. "But I'm just about getting over it."

Phoebus received a mild hero's welcome when he reported to Memorial Stadium for a Sunday doubleheader, with the few players on hand applauding and giving a few cheers. Between games, he got a lift where it counts—in the wallet.

After a brief conference with Harry Dalton, the club's director of player personnel, Phoebus entered the clubhouse as his teammates were leaving for the field.

"How did you make out?" Phoebus was asked.

"I received a very nice raise," he answered, a smile brightening his face. "I'm grateful to everyone concerned."

The young right-hander, who will sign a new contract Monday, conceded that $1,000 was a pretty good guess on the increase. His original 1968 contract, for about $17,000, was signed after he held out for a couple days. He led the Orioles with a 14-9 record as a rookie last season.

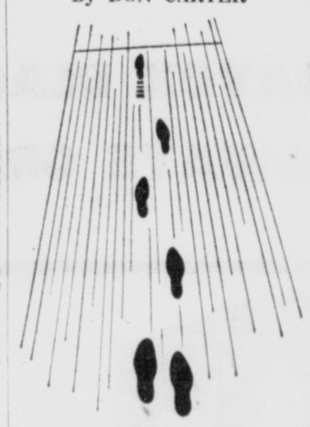
"Catching that game was the greatest thrill of my baseball career," said Curt Blefary.

Whereas most catchers go through their careers without catching a no-hitter, Blefary did it in his fourth game behind the plate in the major leagues.

Blefary normally is an outfielder or first baseman.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



One of the easiest errors to fall into in bowling is a wobbly approach. In most cases the bowler drifts to the right. But whatever way you drift, you can't possibly be sure of hitting your mark or the pins. Concentrate on moving straight forward and you'll find your pin-fall increasing substantially on the first ball and you will pick up a lot more spares.

Clippers Return In Third Place

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Clippers, trailing a point behind Los Angeles in the Pacific Division of the North American Soccer League, are back home today to prepare for Wednesday's game against Atlanta.

The Clippers played a scoreless tie against Cleveland Saturday night ending a three-match road trip. Oakland is now 3-0-2 and still in third place.

After Wednesday's game, the Clippers will be idle until May 12 when they visit Vancouver, B.C.

Chicago Cubs Win A Pair

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Cubs' extra-base punch has given Leo Durocher some needed relief. . .and temporarily transformed the Vulture into a vacuum cleaner.

Phil Regan, the former Vulture of the Los Angeles Dodgers' bullpen, tidied up in both ends of Chicago's 8-4, 5-2 doubleheader sweep over Houston yesterday in his first appearance for the Cubs.

Regan, traded from the Dodgers to Chicago last Tuesday, protected sizeable leads in the eighth inning of each game as Durocher's Cubs flattened the Astros with a 22-hit barrage that included four doubles, five triples and a home run.

In National League single games, St. Louis' high-flying Cardinals trimmed Pittsburgh 4-2 for their sixth straight victory, San Francisco downed the Dodgers 6-1 behind Gaylor Perry's five-hitter, the Mets nipped Cincinnati 6-5 for unbeaten rookie Jerry Koosman's fourth triumph and Philadelphia shaded Atlanta 4-3.

Glenn Beckert, Don Kessinger, Lou Johnson and Adolfo Phillips led the Cubs past Houston for an 8-8 season mark. Chicago has won five of its last six starts.

Beckert drilled two singles and his first 1968 homer in the opener. Kessinger stroked four hits, including a triple, in the twin bill and seized the National League batting lead with a .393 mark.

Johnson went 5-for-8 on the day, with a triple and two doubles, and Phillips was 4-for-7, with two triples and a double.

Regan pitched two hitless innings in relief of first game winner Joe Niekro and held the Astros to one hit — bases-empty homer by Doug Rader — in protecting Ken Holtzman's first victory over the final 1 2-3 innings of the nightcap.

Dal Mexvill poked a tie-breaking seventh inning single for his first RBI of the season and subsequently scored on a passed ball, leading the Cards past Pittsburgh. Left-hander Steve Carlton stopped the Pirates on five hits and Mike Shannon drove in two St. Louis runs with a single and homer.

Jerry Grote paced the Mets' attack with three hits and two RBI. The Reds chased Koosman in the eighth, when Lee May unloaded a two-run homer, but Met relievers Danny Frisella, Billy Short and Ron Taylor combined to preserve the rookie southpaw's perfect record.

Pitcher Rick Wise delivered Philadelphia's deciding run with a ninth inning double, but needed relief help from Dick Farrell in the bottom of the ninth after being tagged for a two-run homer by Hank Aaron. Bill White homered for the Phillies, who have won seven of their last nine.

Hamilton Air Force Pair Decorated For Heroic Deeds

First Lt. Tallmadge J. Haas, a pilot with the 41st Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Squadron, received the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal from Col. Charles L. Praul, base commander.

M/Sgt. Robert McNab of the 78th Supply Squadron received the Bronze Star.

Lieutenant Haas, of 1825 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, was cited for his bravery while flying more than 200 combat missions in Southeast Asia as a transport pilot from October 1966 to October 1967. He landed at many outposts that were under enemy attack.

Sergeant McNab, of 18 Ent Court on the base, was decorated for meritorious service as the noncommissioned officer in charge of the storage and issue section at Cam Rahn Bay Air Base, the largest air installation in Vietnam. He was recommended for developing supply procedures that increased the combat effectiveness of Cam Rahn Bay.

The Loyalty Day observance was sponsored by the California 15th District of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Three Questions Submitted To Supervisorial Candidates

Each candidate for Marin County supervisor has been asked to reply to three questions posed by the Marin County Employees Association on employee salaries and fringe benefits.

Paul Brusseau, empolyees association president, said each candidate is asked to reply in 350 words to the following three questions:

1. In setting the county budget, what relative priority would you assign to employee salaries, compared to other considerations as capital improvements?

2. What are your views regarding the proper role of a strong merit system in promoting both efficient county government and fair treatment of employees?

3. What is your opinion regarding the propriety of paying county empolyees salaries and fringe benefits at least equal to those that prevail in private industry and other agencies in the labor market in which this county must compete for above average personnel?

Brusseau said the replies will be published verbatim and circulated among county employees, without editing or comment.

Phone Cable Cut Accidentally In West Marin Area

Telephone service to 1,250 customers in Point Reyes Station and Inverness was restricted to local calls for several hours Friday after a Marin County Fire Department bulldozer accidentally cut a telephone cable on the Gonzales ranch in Nicasio.

John D. LaNoue, Pacific Telephone Co. district manager, said that the accident happened about 11:10 a.m. Complete service was restored at 4:30 p.m. after the cable was spliced, he said. He said that the repairs probably took longer than usual because regular crews are on strike.

The repairs were made by supervisory personnel.

Guilty Plea Made On Fraudulent Check

Henry Charles Kates, 23, of Richmond, pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court Friday to a charge that he possessed a fraudulent check in San Rafael Feb. 13, with intent to pass it and defraud the Bank of Marin.

He was ordered to return to court May 27 for sentencing.

Mrs. Hammond Is New President Of Dimes March

Mrs. Melvin Hammond of Terra Linda was elected president of the Marin Chapter of the National Foundation, March of Dimes, at the group's annual dinner Friday night.

Mrs. Hammond succeeds Mrs. Walter Johnson of San Anselmo, who served five years. Mrs. Johnson accepted the office of secretary.

Also elected were Mrs. Jonathan Goldsmith of Terra Linda, vice president, and Donald R. Swing of San Rafael, treasurer. Mrs. Ralph Clark of San Rafael was named Mothers March chairman.

Permission Sought For Used Car Lot

An application by Frank Fuchs for a used car lot on property adjacent to 31 Bolinas Road will be considered by the Fairfax Design Review Board at 8 p.m. Thursday at the women's club.

The board will also discuss an application by Grant J. Halsing for a neon sign at his office at 1914 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Appeal Case On Value Of Land Is Won

Mrs. Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford), owner of the Valhalla restaurant in Sausalito, has won a $3,250 reduction in appraised market value of a parking lot she owns at the corner of Third and Main streets, kitty corner from her restaurant.

The 10,500-square-foot property is now used as a parking lot and for storing of fire department equipment in an old shed.

The assessor had placed a market value of $45,500 on the property on the basis that seven apartments could be built on the site, zoned for multiple residential.

Mrs. Owen and her attorney, Richard Gladstein, told the Marin Assessment Appeals Board that the property is not board that the property is not suited for seven units.

Chairman Julius H. Selinger and board member David G. Cohn voted Friday for a reduction of total market value to $42,250. They said they agreed that the lot is more suitable for six units than seven. Board member James F. McConnell held out for the full $45,500 market value but was outvoted.

Mrs. Owen had asked for a reduction to $35,000.
